NEWS FOR WOMEN

SUNSHINE MAKE-UP

IT seems that every manufacturer of beauty products has introduced something new in the way of summer make-up this season.

Facing me on my desk at this very moment are four new suntan powders, two new lipsticks for summer make-up, two new nail varnishes, as well as sunproof cream, suntan vanishing cream, suntan oil, and very special soaps for cruising, camping and car or train travel.

YOU can get suntan powders in a great variety of shades.

1. There is one famous make of suntan powder in a soft clear brown which would be most becoming to older women and those whose complexions are inclined to be coarse grained.

2. Is the suntan of an equally famous firm. This is actually brighter tan and would look well on girls with young complexions who take their tan more seriously.

3. Is a real peach-tan. This powder claims to have certain ingredients which have a tonic effect on the skin, and it is air floated through the finest silk which makes it so fine that it clings to the skin.

4. Is a brand new luxury powder called "Copper Powder," and it is real coppery shade.

The newest lipstick to go with suntan powder is called Russett, and there is another, which would be excellent for this kind of make-up, which claims not to turn blue on the lips. For the luxury powder there is a lipstick called Nasturtium.

There is a range of powder rouges that would go well with these shades. The best colours would be peony or medium. This type of rouge is put on with a hare's foot.

"Bisque" and "Shrimp" are the names of the newest nail varnishes and they are not only charming colours for suntan, but the varnish is actually very easy to put on yourself.

If you want to use a summer tan make-up before you are actually sunburnt the thing to do is to use a suntan foundation cream. This is made like a vanishing cream and can be put on as light or as dark as you like by putting it on while your face is slightly damp to get a lighter effect.

There are also suntan lotions which can be applied to neck, arms and legs, which will stain the skin. Neither of these preparations comes off in water, but can be washed off with soap and water.

The newest liquid suntan foundation for suntan powder gives a tanned effect to the face, hands, arms and neck and at the same time has a cooling and soothing action on a complexion that has been caught by the sun.

If you wish to protect your skin from the sun and wind then you must use a sunproof or motor cream and rub plenty of oil into your arms, neck and back before you are exposed to the sun.

Turtle is particularly good for this purpose; it does not grow superfluous hair. Surplus oil can be wiped off afterwards and a liquid powder applied over powder cream.

FOR those who wish to lather in the hardest water and is avoid tan there is a sun-proof vanishing cream, flesh coloured, which is non-sticky. This cream is supposed to deflect the burning short rays of the sun, but allow the health-giving rays to penetrate. This results in an even tan without any redness or burning.

It is also recommended for men whose skins are often as sensitive as women's, especially if they are going a bit bald on top. The soaps include a special creamed soap, in tube, which will clean the skin.

Good Cooking

By Ambrose Heath

BAKED CUSTARD

THE great point to remember in cooking baked custards is to see that they cook slowly, or they may get full of little holes, or break, and be watery underneath.

The best custards are made with yolks of egg only (counting two yolks as one whole egg), but variations can be used, the custard being creamier and richer if more yolks than whites are used.

To make a plain baked custard the ingredients are one pint of milk, two large eggs or four yolks (or two yolks and one whole egg), and the sugar and flavouring you need. Beat the eggs together so that they are dissolved in each half-pint of well mixed, but not frothed at all, milk. Make and cook as above.

500 BLIND MEN IN MARCH ON LONDON

Campaign to Get Pensions: "We Don't Want Charity"

20 MILES-A-DAY TREK

M.P.s BACK PETITION TO GOVERNMENT

FIVE HUNDRED blind men are to march on London as part of a campaign to make the Government take fuller responsibility for the blind in the British Isles.

They will march in contingents of 80, each man holding his neighbour's arm, leaders of sections guided by white sticks, and at the head and tail of this tragic procession will march the few who can see.

"We set out on October 12," said Councillor J. A. Clydesdale, of Newcastle, organiser of the march, "Aberdeen, Glasgow, Leeds, Manchester, and Cardiff have been chosen as our starting points."

"We have had hundreds of blind volunteers from all parts of the country. We insist that all marchers shall be able-bodied men. No women or children are to be allowed.

The men will march 15—20 miles a day. For food we will rely on the kindness and hospitality of friends to the blind in the towns we pass.

"We feel that this march is the only method by which we can draw the Government's attention to the real need something being done for the blind in this country."

Reform Proposal.

Working day and night in a dark London office is the secretary of the National League for the Blind—50 years old Mr. A. Henderson. His life work has been devoted to the cause of his fellow sufferers.

"The march has no object in view—a definite object," he said. "We want the Government to take something like 75 per cent. of the financial responsibility."

"We have a definite reform which we are putting forward. All grants to the blind, we believe, should be paid through the voucher system—supplied like old-age pensions—through the Post Office.

"At present the unfortunate blind are thrown from the local authorities to the charities and back again. We want State control for the blind—we don't want charity."

UNTRUE ESTIMATE OF DRUG ADDICTS REPORT WITHDRAWN

It is announced that the report of the Opium Section of the League of Nations Secretariat giving an estimate of the number of drug addicts in the United Kingdom has been withdrawn from circulation.

Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, Parliamentary Secretary to the Home Office, said in reply to a Parliamentary written question that the report included a statement showing how many drug addicts there would be in each of 50 countries on the assumption that the proportion of addicts to population was the same as it was estimated to be in Germany, the United States and Egypt.

On the wholly unfounded assumption it was calculated that the figure for the United Kingdom would be 4,600, 40,000 or 92,000, according as to whether Germany, the United States or Egypt was taken as the basis of computation.

Went Back To The Girl He Loved— AND SHE GAOLED HIM FOR THE REWARD

JOHN CULLEN, a Grimsby fisherman, joined the French Foreign Legion and fell in love with a waitress in a Marseilles cafe.

When he was drafted to Morocco he deserted the Legion and tried to get back to Marseilles to marry his waitress lover, Pipi.

But he was forced to flee to England to elude his French pursuers.

That was six years ago. For four years he worked in Grimsby fishing trawlers. But his heart was in Marseilles.

One day a Spanish tramp steamer called at the docks. She was bound for Marseilles. John worked his passage as cook.

At Marseilles he found her at the cafe chatting with two other customers.

KISSES—AND BETRAYAL

She sat on his knee, petted him. Then the two customers returned—with two gendarmes.

"This man," said Pipi, "escaped from the Legion six years ago." A reward is offered in France to those who report deserters.

John, dumbfounded, disillusioned, was marched off and locked in the dingy cell of a nearby prison.

Recently John Cullen walked into the offices of a London newspaper and told this story.

"I asked to be taken into the yard for exercise. I waited till the latter's back was turned," he said.

"Then I climbed the wall and dropped 25ft. on the other side. I managed to smuggle my way across France."

To-day he is on his way back to Grimsby, where he hopes to find another job on a trawler.

Moscow Radios War Orders To Spain

FURTHER sensational evidence of the extent to which Soviet Russia is directing the mobs of Communists, armed by the Madrid Government, in the battle against the anti-Reds is forthcoming.

Daily broadcasts are being addressed from Soviet radio stations to the Spanish Reds laying down military tactics, and urging fighting "without mercy." It is significant that the Madrid Government was recently able to announce the opening of a special £1,110,000 anti-revolt credit.

So close is the co-operation between the Madrid Government and Soviet organisations in Spain that since the outbreak of the civil war Russian Bolsheviks have been employed among radio announcers in Madrid and elsewhere.

The Madrid Government is a big consumer of Soviet oil; and it is understood that 25 per cent. of the sales proceeds is retained by Soviet agencies in Spain for the specific purpose of subsidising Soviet propaganda there and providing strike funds.

Meanwhile, in Russia the powerful Moscow Comintern station, working on a wave-length of about 1,700 metres, broadcasts in Spanish every night.

The man in charge of these special broadcasts is Jose Perez, chief of the Spanish section of the Third International. He is assisted by Nitkin, a Russian who has only recently returned from Madrid, where he organised the Communist Defence Corps.

LENIN'S PROPHECY

Broadcasts have been opened by extracts from Lenin's speech at the 1920 Congress of the Third International. Lenin foretold that the "second successful proletarian revolution" would take place in Spain; that the Spanish army would be on the other side; and that the "armed proletariat would have to fight against mercenaries and native African forces."

Throughout the night the Moscow station also gives instructions on street fighting, on barricade fighting, on the organisation of the workers, on revolutionary strategy, and similar subjects:

The Proletariat of the U.S.S.R. is standing by the glorious fighters of the Spanish Popular Front against the military Fascist putsch. On the outcome of your struggle depends the future of the world proletarian revolution and of the workers of the world.

Collections of funds for the Spanish struggle have been started, and huge sums are said to be coming in from all parts of Soviet Russia.

GALLIPOLI WAR GRAVES

TURKISH ASSURANCES

The new Straits Convention will in no way affect the upkeep and supervision of war graves in Gallipoli.

With the text of the Convention, signed at Montreux on July 20, which was published as a White Paper recently, appears correspondence between Dr. T. R. Aras, the Turkish Foreign Minister, and Lord Stanley on the subject of the cemeteries.

Dr. Aras wrote on July 18: "You mentioned to me the other day that public opinion in your country felt some uneasiness regarding the effect of the conclusion of the Straits Convention upon the position of the military cemeteries on the Gallipoli Peninsula."

Dr. Aras then repeats a "spontaneous declaration" which he made during a private session. Turkey, he says, will fully honour her obligations under the Treaty of Lausanne, notwithstanding any changes which may be brought about in the regime of the Straits by the Convention.

PROBLEMS OF MAHARAJA'S COOKS

SHADOWS MIGHT "DEFILE" FOOD

MEALS PREPARED TWO MILES AWAY

Two cooks who have travelled from India to London with the Maharaja of Mysore work in a specially guarded room two miles from their master's hotel, preparing food for him.

The Maharaja is staying in a seven-room suite in the Dorchester Hotel, Park-lane, during his visit to London.

For the first 24 hours after his arrival there, his two personal cooks from India used a special kitchen set aside for their use in the hotel.

It was decided, however, that the position was dangerous for their monarch's food, as at any moment the shadow of one of the white cooks working in the big kitchen might fall across what they were cooking. This would, according to the Maharaja's beliefs, defile the food.

Now the two Indian cooks have joined the rest of the Maharaja's staff at a hotel in Kensington, near Palace Gate, where, in a specially guarded room, they prepare his meals with food which they themselves buy.

BLESSING THE WATER. The Maharaja's food consists largely of curry and garlic, but butter and milk also form an important part of his diet.

He only drinks water which has been blessed by his priests, who daily perform their rites in the room in his hotel which has been converted into a temple for the golden goddess who accompanies him on all his travels.

It would have been too complicated if it was decided, to keep him supplied with the water from the Ganges which he is normally supposed by his religion, to drink.

The Maharaja rises at six each morning and goes out from seven to nine. The rest of the day, he spends in his room, receiving as many as 30 callers.

CINEMA NOTES

The most famous "Lady Raffles" of the screen, who made her bow two years ago in "The Notorious Sophie Lang," after the character had achieved national popularity through Saturday Evening Post stories, returned to the Queen's Theatre to-day in Paramount's "The Return of Sophie Lang." Gertrude Michael, star of the first Sophie Lang picture, breezes her way through the present picture as "Sophie." With her appear on cast including Sir Guy Standing, Ray Milland, Elizabeth Patterson, Colin Tapley and other leading players.

"Sins of Man"

Very few of the screen's first pioneers are still active in pictures and for this reason the celebration of Jean Harlow's thirtieth years as a film actor, held on one of the huge Twentieth Century-Fox sets during the recent production of "Sins of Man," gave him added prominence in the Hollywood colony. "The Country Doctor" elevated him to stardom and his superb portrayal of the stellar role in "Sins of Man" should provide him a permanent niche in Hollywood's gallery of great stars. Harlow's supporting cast in "Sins of Man" is headed by Don Ameche, Darryl F. Zanuck's newest "discovery." The screen play was written by Samuel G. Engel, based on a novel by Joseph Roth. Otto Brower and Gregory Ratoff co-directed under the production supervision of Kenneth Macgowan.

"Unknown Woman"

All the elements that make for fascinating motion picture entertainment are paraded across the screen of the Majestic Theatre where Columbia's "Unknown Woman" featuring Marlon Marsh, Richard Cromwell and Douglas Dumbrille, opened yesterday. A delightful story of young love with an unusual background that thrills from cyclonic, dangerous action and intrigue to up-to-the-minute comedy. "Unknown Woman" touches capably virtually every human emotion.

"Road Gang"

"Road Gang," showing at the Oriental Theatre on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, is a picture that will linger long in the memory of every one who sees it. This is a story of deliberate inhumanity practiced by crooked politicians and callous guards upon helpless prisoners, and if the film depicts actual conditions, as it is supposed to do, it proves that the day of the whipping post, the torture chamber and other almost unbelievable persecutions, is still with us. The scenes depicted in "Road Gang," make one's blood boil. It makes one shudder to think that human beings could be subjected to such conditions. Yet despite the terrifying aspect of the portion of the picture, the subject itself, as well as the picturesque quality of the scenes, makes it one of vital interest to everyone. There are plenty of thrills in these scenes, including a terrific battle between prison guards and convicts in the bowels of the earth, the blasting of a mine tunnel by prisoners in their efforts to escape and their bombardment with machine guns and gas bombs.

"Two-Fisted"

Lee Tracy, after a much too long absence from the screen, comes back to win new laurels in Paramount's "Two-Fisted," sparkling comedy romance of the lively adventures of two lowbrows who break into high-brow society, which came to the Star Theatre yesterday. "Two-Fisted" is a rollicking screen adaptation of an original story by James Gleason and Richard Taber and pictures the breezy events of a prize fighter manager and his dumb pug when a chance meeting with a Park Avenue playboy crushes them into the swanky 400 via the butler route. Grace Bradley makes a particularly fetching feminine foil for Karns' clumsy wooing while Gall Patrick is appropriately attractive and poised as the harassed young society matron whose husband, Gordon Wescott, manages to make life pretty miserable for her, preventing her ultimate happiness with G. P. Huntley, Jr. a fine, unstanding young Englishman who makes a small part outstanding.

TIN RESTRICTION

SHARP LONDON COMMENTS ON HIGH PRICE

London, Sept. 2. The present price of tin is possibly too high, suggests the Financial News. The paper points out that the price is bolstered up by the growing belief that restriction will be renewed and the realisation that stocks have failed to expand at the rate justified by the present production quota, but it emphasises that the Belgian Congo quota, though tentatively fixed, must yet be passed by various countries concerned.

The writer, moreover, suggests that the reason for the failure of stocks to rise above starvation level is the renewed accumulation of Bolivia's arrears and the unseen expansion of consumers' stocks.

The very fact that apparent production is not expanding as anticipated indicates therefore that the new agreement must start on a liberal quota basis.—Reuter.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE MARKET IRREGULAR YESTERDAY

New York, Sept. 2. Swan, Culbertson & Fritz Dow Jones summary of yesterday's market:—Prices to-day advanced on favourable business reports. Stocks and rails were featured in the early rise and the ticker was one minute behind, after which the market became more orderly. Prices were well maintained despite some profit-taking and other groups joined the rally, trading increasing on advance pull orders. Motor and amusements both advanced, while utilities also swung into action late in the session, with Consolidated Edison leading the upward trend. Farm implements resisted while coppers gained slightly. Oil shares responded only meagrely to the improved statistics in the oil industry. The bonds market was higher, while stocks on the Curb Exchange were also higher.

S. C. & F. New York office cables: Stocks: The market to-day reflected a certain amount of profit-taking, but traders are bullish on after-holiday prospects. The price of Pittsburgh steel scrap advanced by $1 per ton to the highest level since September of 1920.

Cotton: The "Journal of Commerce" estimate of 10,200,000 bales is bullish and has encouraged anticipation of a lower Government estimate on September 10th, but the export outlook is uncertain. Indian cotton is undercutting the American varieties and impending hedging curtails outside buying. Six leading experts on the cotton market are bullish, while one is bearish.

Rubber: A good "spot" demand is reported. The market for futures is quiet and steady. Malaya exports for August totalled 43,500 tons.

S. C. & F. Wall Street Journal morning comment:—"The third quarter of the current year will be the best financial quarter in the Power Industry since 1930. Brokers say that there is greater interest in certain motor-accessory issues. Movie shares are discounting the expected Autumn attendance figures. Brokers are of the opinion that merchandising shares will be more popular during September. Some professional traders are buying Montgomery Ward issues."

BRITISH GOVERNMENT SEEKS ELIMINATION

London, Sept. 2. During a visit to Radiolympia this morning Major Tryon, the Postmaster General, paid particular attention to an exhibit illustrating the steps being taken for the suppression of radio interference.

The problem of minimising the interference with radio reception caused by domestic and electrical appliances and equipment, he said, continued to engage the active attention of the Post Office.

The importance of the problem was increasing owing to extended electrical appliances of all kinds.

During the past year the Post Office had increased complaints from listeners.

UTILITY CHARGES

APPEAL MADE BY CHINESE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Acting on the advice of its Trade Recovery Enquiry Committee, the Chinese Chamber of Commerce recently, wrote to the public utility companies of Hongkong asking for a reduction of electricity, gas and telephone rates. The matter again came up for discussion at the monthly meeting of the Chamber yesterday afternoon. The chair was occupied by Mr. Li Sing-kul, supported by the vice-chairman, Mr. J. M. Wong, and the Secretary, Mr. H. Y. Tsao.

The Secretary informed the meeting that replies had been received from the Hongkong Electric Company, China Light and Power & Co., Ltd., and Hongkong and China Gas Co., Ltd. All the answers were in the negative, and the companies explained that they themselves were also affected by the trade depression and the low rate of exchange. They considered that a reduction was not justified.

The Chamber is now waiting for a reply from the Hongkong Telephone Company. It is understood that the Chamber at a later date will take up the whole matter with the Chinese unofficial members of the Legislative Council.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Secretary announced that five new members were admitted during the month.

London, Sept. 2. The former skipper of the Girl Pat, the Grimby trawler which sailed without instructions from her owners on a secret treasure-hunting expedition to the South Seas, landed at Graves End to-day.

George Osborne, this reckless seafarer, was immediately conveyed to London in a police van, to be charged at Bow Street with stealing a vessel from British waters.

CONTENDING WITH BARBARISM

London, Sept. 2.

Newspaper reports reaching London from Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, suggest that the initiative of diplomatic representatives accredited to the Spanish Government, on behalf of humanitarian mitigation of the sufferings imposed on the Spanish people by the civil war, is meeting with some promise of success.

Last week, a telegram from the Foreign Secretary to Sir Henry Channon was published in which it was stated to be the desire of the British Government to play its full part in any organised international effort to bring the contending forces to agree to a discontinuation of cruelties, reports of which, all too many of them substantiated, have appalled the outside world.

The Spanish Government is now said to have agreed to the establishment of contact through the Diplomatic Corps with the insurgent leaders with a view to discussion of methods of warfare. Press telegrams speak hopefully of a mutual agreement to abstain from the execution of hostages and to exchange prisoners.

NON-INTERVENTION

The British Government has received, through the British Ambassador in Lisbon, notification from the Portuguese Government of the latter's acceptance in principle of the proposal for an advisory committee in London, composed of representatives of Powers pledged to non-intervention in the Spanish civil war, and with the function of acting as a clearing house for facts and ideas in connection with the application of various non-intervention declarations.

The Portuguese acceptance is accompanied by a number of suggestions and requests for explanations which will receive consideration in London and Paris.

Meantime, it is understood that the British Charge d'Affaires in Berlin was in touch with the German Government to-day on this matter, and there is growing hopefulness in British official quarters that an early reply may be expected from Berlin and that it will be favourable to the scheme for a committee, which is increasingly regarded here as an essential safeguard of the non-interventionist position.—British Wireless.

3 Factors of Importance ## in planning your advertising campaign.

COVERAGE: For many years the "South China Morning Post" has been regarded as the leading newspaper in Hongkong and South China. It has by far the largest circulation, penetrating to the Outports and inland centres. "The Hongkong Telegraph" enjoys a similar pre-eminence as the leading afternoon newspaper.

IN THE HOME: The newspaper that produces profitable results to the advertiser is the newspaper that is read and re-read by the family. The S. C. M. Post reaches most families with morning tea. Similarly, "The Hongkong Telegraph" is the afternoon favourite with the majority.

LOCAL PRESTIGE: The judgment of "the man on the spot" in respect to media selection is based on sound knowledge and can be followed with confidence. Year in and year out leading local firms expand the greater part of their allocations in the "South China Morning Post" and "The Hongkong Telegraph."

TUBERCULOSIS AND POVERTY

One of Hongkong's biggest and most difficult health problems was raised at Tuesday's meeting of the Urban Council, when a series of questions was asked regarding measures to combat tuberculosis. Week after week, the health returns show a death-roll of fifty or sixty from this disease; in other words, some 2,800 people die in Hongkong yearly from this scourge. But that is by no means the whole story, for not all the cases are notified; besides which, it is a common custom for people in the last stages of the disease to leave the Colony and die in their own country. There is, as the Government spokesman stated on Tuesday, no sanatorium in the Colony for the treatment of the disease: all that is done is to give palliative treatment in the hospitals. The problem is, as we say, one of extraordinary difficulty, and it exists mainly by reason of poverty, which in turn causes overcrowding, a potent factor both in the contraction and spread of the disease. There can be no question of the need of large-scale slum clearance in the Colony, for both in the city and on the mainland there are human rabbit-warrens the existence of which ought not to be tolerated. In England, the Government has embarked on a huge scheme for demolition of uninhabitable property, using its compulsory powers to the fullest limit possible. There is equal need for drastic action in Hongkong, and it is to be hoped that the Housing Commission will not hesitate to recommend strong measures with this end in view. The immensity of the problem is attested by the fact that the Commission, although appointed many months ago, has not yet got beyond the preliminary stage of inquiry. One of the most serious issues involved in any big scheme of slum clearance will be the finding of suitable alternative accommodation, at a rental within the capacity of the people displaced. In this connection, it is illuminating to bear in mind that in the cases dealt with by the Society for the Protection of Children the average income per head per month is substan-

MUSSOLINI HASN'T WON YET

By
Sir John Harris

THE Italian Press is now being used to dangle before the eyes of the Italian people the most fantastic visions about the golden era following upon the Abyssinian invasion.

Abyssinia is to be at once the land flowing with milk and honey, of gold and silver, precious stones and metals, gushing oil geysers, thriving homes for happy Italian families, and apparently all to be had for the asking!

The Italian monarch has been crowned Emperor of Abyssinia. The Mussolini family have received a lavish share of honours, remain to conquer or perish. The shoutings of the captains and of the people have awakened to be paid for, and armies are mixed echoes at home and abroad.

* * *

BUT whatever the people have been led to believe there is now good reason for saying that the Italian Government is awakening to some very unpalatable truths about the Abyssinian venture.

Apart from dribbles, the armies are not marching home; truly they have done no fighting, having left that nasty little job to mercenary native troops, with the result that the Italian casualties have been few, but where are the "200,000 sons" of Italy?

* * *

THEY appear to be stuck in the swamps and mud of Abyssinia waiting for that distant day when they will be able to take up the unfinished task of conquest and occupation.

There are vast spaces in this country nearly twice as large as France which never have seen, and probably never may see, an Italian!

Then there is an Ethiopian Government "in being" somewhere—and for what it is worth there is that embarrassing custom of every child is taught from the cradle of how Lebna Dengel, when ruler of Abyssinia was driven utterly broken and ruined into the mountains of the West to await the day when he could tially below two dollars. These are the type of people housed in the slums of the Colony—people who cannot even afford a small cubicle, but have to be content with a bed-space for the needs of the whole family. These facts suffice to show how difficult it would be to provide alternative accommodation within the means of the poorest of the poor. Yet it is clear that no effective attack can be made on tuberculosis so long as these slum areas persist: even if free sanatorium facilities were available, the patients would again drift back to overcrowded tenements, undoing all the good which they may have derived from their treatment. It will thus be seen that the problem bristles with difficulties. The root cause is admittedly economic, and whatever measures are ultimately deemed necessary, primary account will have to be taken of this fact: The raising of the standard of living must of necessity be a slow and laborious process. But meantime there is certainly a call for such remedial measures as may at any rate make some impression on a scourge which takes such a dread toll and which must have adverse effects on the general health of the Colony.

ABYSSINIA: Price
£5,000,000 a Month

The first illusion then, for the Italian monarch has been crowned Emperor of Abyssinia, the main armies cannot be brought home—they must now sail forth, and drive the dispirited invaders from the land—no, Abyssinia is not yet wholly conquered—and very far from being even "occupied."

The Italian army has brought home—they must now remain to conquer or perish.

Next, that armies in being have to be paid for, and armies are mixed echoes at home and abroad.

* * *

The Italian armies need food and mountains of it—they need houses and hospitals, they need a continuous supply of arms and ammunition.

Above all they need transport to move men and goods over the 2,000 miles of roads in a country where there is no railway or river transport except the single French line from

Birendra to Addis, and a river that runs west and north, not east!

African companies or the Sierra

Leone Government will pay handsomely to Italians—or any other nationals—who will tell them how to win almost inexhaustible stores of platinum at commercial prices from the defiant matrix in their terri-ties.

Then the Italian people are told: "Our colonising families will grow citrus fruits and cotton." What! Grow lemons to be transported 200 miles overland to compete with equally good Italian lemons on the seaboard of Genoa!

Cotton, it is true, can be grown in the Nile region, but again

there is the problem of road transport.

Of course all these miracles may be performed, but at what price?

Lifting Of League Sanctions Has Not Ended Italy's Troubles: Fight For Old Markets

HARDEST BATTLE IS ON THE ECONOMIC FRONT

WHILE ITALY MADE WAR WITH
ABYSSINIA OTHER NATIONS
ENTRENCHED THEMSELVES
IN HONGKONG, ELSEWHERE

"Telegraph" Staff Reporter

THE WAR IS OVER IN ABYSSINIA. THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS LIFTED ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY. BUT—

Hongkong so far has not exported one single item to Italy.

Italy's export trade to the Far East has received such a set-back that it may take years to recover.

Twelve months ago, this tiny British Colony purchased 1,200 per cent. more goods from Italy than we exported to her. We were one of Italy's best customers in this respect, for we have had to pay in bullion for our deficiency in exports.

In July last year our imports from Italy exceeded $255,000. In July this year, a month after sanctions were lifted, they were only $30,643, according to statistics just issued by the Statistical Office of the Imports and Exports Department.

For two months—May and June—our trade with Italy dropped to nothing. For the whole of 1935 it totalled $2,032,111, of which $1,991,836 was imports into Hongkong.

There are hundreds of Colonies, Dependencies and countries as small as Hongkong. Italy is desperately seeking to regain her staggering loss of trade in all of them. What is happening in Hongkong is happening all over the world.

While Italy was fighting her costly campaign in Abyssinia, other countries were stepping in and grabbing her trade. She must now fight an even more desperate battle on her economic front to regain the position she has lost.

Once upon a time we purchased all manner of goods from Italy. Take, for instance the statistics for March last year, which were selected at random. In that month our purchases from Italy were:

Buildings Materials	$ 11,719
Chemicals and Drugs	2,075
Dyeing, Tanning Materials	1,050
Foodstuffs and Provisions	1,845
Liquors	1,310
Metals	117
Paper and Paperware	6,800
Piece Goods, Textiles	222,661
Wearing Apparel	1,307
Sundries	5,994
Total	$255,000

In May and June our imports from Italy were nil. In July our imports were Paper and Paperware to the value of $17,701; Piece Goods and Textiles to the value of $6,000; and Sundries valued at $6,942, making a total of $30,643.

Norway has stepped in and taken Italy's market for Building Materials. In March, 1935 our purchases from Norway were nil, while our purchases from Italy amounted to $11,710. In July this year, Norway sold us $31,175 worth and Italy nil.

JAPAN STEPS IN

Nearly all our Acetic Acid once came from Italy. To-day it comes from Germany which supplied $4,040 worth in July.

Italy was also one of our bigger suppliers of Dyeing and Tanning Materials. Now Japan looks after this trade, her exports to Hongkong leaping up from $605 in March, 1935, to $2,528 in July this year.

Delicacies in canned goods, an Italian trade valued at almost $1,000 a month last year, now come from Canada and France.

Italian cheeses are now replaced by Dutch, Swiss, English and Australian, these four nations apparently equally sharing a market that was once worth $700 a month to Italy.

British sausage makers now replace the famous Italian makers. In March, 1935, Britain supplied us with only $152 worth of sausages. In July British exports to Hongkong amounted to $1,287.

Italian vermouths, wines and spirits have been replaced by other Continental brands. Six nations now share this market, which, however, should not be hard to re-capture.

BRITAIN, JAPAN SHARE

It is when we come to Piece Goods and Textiles that we really find how terribly has been the drop in Italy's market.

Great Britain and Japan now exclusively share Italy's portion of the Poplin market. All our Umbrella Cloths last July came from Germany, while Japan completely stole Italy's market for Wool Blankets.

In March last year, Italy supplied Hongkong with Artificial Silk Yarns to the value of $149,033. By June this year this market had become an exclusive one for Japan. Even in July, a month after sanctions had ended, Italy had succeeded in regaining only $8,000 worth.

The sale of hats and caps, which was equally shared by the United Kingdom, and Italy last year, is now shared by Britain and Japan, with several other nations supplying small

"A Miracle Man", Says "Time" Of Former Hongkong Man

AMERICAN NEWS- MAGAZINE ON DR. ALEX. CANNON

"A Miracle Man" is the heading "Time", well-known American news-magazine, gives to an article in a recent issue on Dr. Alexander Cannon, formerly of Hongkong.

The article says:

"Disease can be diagnosed by its odour, every ailment having a different odour."

"A steady green light and green paper or walls should be in the bedrooms of young male children as this colour raises the male sex urge to a higher level...."

"It should be borne in mind that the high vibration of red transmitted-light will, if played upon the eyes for . . . half an hour, remove the symptoms of influenza."

"I am a man acquainted with miracles."

Such affirmations as these, if made by one of Southern California's obscure wizards, might pass with scant attention; but they are statements of Dr. Alexander Cannon, one of the most extraordinary figures in British science.

Bald, round-faced Dr. Cannon is co-author of respectable treatises on psychiatry and neurology, an active staff member of the London County Mental Hospital Service. A member in good standing of the British Medical Association, he was on its Executive Council in 1934-35.

Nevertheless he has delved so deeply into Oriental mysticism that he has been elevated to the ranks of Master-and-Fifth of the Great White Lodge of the Himalayas, which he considers to be a survival of a great university in Atlantis, "sunk by the self-will of mankind about the year 254,600 B.C."

He believes that man has not only an astral body which leaves the corporal shell in sleep or death but an etheric body even more refined than the astral.

He has composed a kind of "music" which consists of combinations of colours.

He once offered to do the Hindu rope trick in London's Albert Hall for £50,000. He has invented a thought-reading machine called a "psychostethograph" in which he intends to demonstrate in the U.S. this year.

He believes Armageddon may come in 1937. Like many another prominent mystic, he has no sense of humour.

Dr. Cannon relates wonders in the East which make the notorious rope trick (an illusion, according to him, produced by mass hypnosis) seem like small potatoes. Examples:

A family of three Kuan Bum Monks vanished into thin air.

A big tree withered when a yogi pointed his finger at it.

Three men made an appearance before the monastery's Grand Lama, although they were actually appreciated both by children and adults. This could be composed of nursery rhymes, etc.

HAYWARD AS CAPTAIN Colony Bound To Be Up Against It

(By R. Abbit)

To write about Hongkong Cricket in the first few days of September produces a curious feeling—rather like the one you get when the boy has called you an hour too early. However, the new arrangement of dates for the Shanghai match renders this inevitable. As to the expediency of this new arrangement I shall have more to say later on.

At the present I am concerned I will not say with facts, but with probabilities. I gather there is rather a desire to play the Interport game in Shanghai at such a time that advantage can be taken of the double tenth holiday. I may be wrong, but I believe this to be the case. This may interfere with the provisional date of sailing, October 2, as it would mean rather a long gap before the Interport, and rather a long stay in Shanghai. But, of course, the whole business is rather dependent on the possibilities of booking conveniently. In these days the utmost economy must be observed. However be that as it may, I understand that nets will go up on the 8th (Monday, the 7th, is a holiday) on the K.C.C. ground for those whose names have been sent in by their Clubs.

There is a certain amount of doubt as to what names actually are in but I will set down all the names that have been mentioned grouping them in their Clubs. The K.C.C. have sent in E. F. Fincher, N. A. E. Mackay, W. C. Hung and Robert Lee; Craigenhower, A. T. Lee, E. Zimmerman and F. R. Zimmerman; The I.R.C., Periera, Minu, A. H. Madar and K. Nazarin; E. L. Gozano alone comes from the University while Col. Kirke, C. C. Garthwaite, J. P. Williams, D. Pritchard and Captain Persse represent the Army. The Civil Service have put in W. H. Colledge's name. E. Richardson's name was mentioned but it has not reached the Club authorities, and I now learn that he definitely cannot go. He has in fact just returned from short leave. Of the Club, H. Owen Hughes is definitely unable to go, while Duckitt is in Singapore. T. A. Pearce and L. D. Kilbre are probably available, while A. W. Hayward is doubtful, or so I believe.

UPSETS

Of course it is more than probable that some of those chosen may at the last minute find themselves unable to go. But putting this aside and considering the names all together, I am inclined to think that a pretty fair side can be put together. In picking the side I should like to see go, I started by setting down the names of the men who could safely be expected to be included as bowlers and in another column those of the batsmen. I then picked the three men whose names appeared in each column,—to wit, A. T. Pearce, C. C. Garthwaite and E. L. Gozano. To build up the bowling we want to more at least and obviously the men are Pearce and Minu—if they are fit. That makes five. The wicket keeper would presumably be Mackay. I doubt if he is quite as good behind the stumps as Colledge, but he is a much more dangerous bat on last season's form.

THE BATTING

This leaves five places for batsmen, who by the way must be able to stand up to a long day in the field and a three days' match. The first two names which occur to me are those of A. H. Madar and Captain D. W. Persse, and they have the added value of being able to send down an over or two in an emergency. J. P. Williams as an opening batsman would undoubtedly be my choice, and that leaves me two places more which must be for the Captain. I am, by the way, assuming that T. A. Pearce, who wants to captain the side, has had more experience of big cricket than anyone so far mentioned, but I have an idea, rightly or wrongly, that he is not very keen on being captain. It is purely a guess of my own: If it is wrong I should make Pearce captain and fill the last two places—and twelfth man—on form displayed in the trials. But if another captain is to be found A. W. Hayward, if available, is the man for the job. Failing him, I would put in E. J. R. Mitchell who has personally had luck. But, of course, this would depend largely on whether he can find some form after a season out of cricket owing to a big operation.

THE LAST PLACE

I will assume however that Hayward is going and that leaves the last place and a twelfth man. I am somewhat doubtful if Colonel Kirke likes a three day match. He has been a very fine batsman indeed, and is still quite capable of taking fifty or sixty off the best bowling in the Colony, but I cannot recall that he

A Farewell to Tournament Tennis

It's a case of net loss—design's gain with Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, "Queen Helen" of tennis. She announced in San Francisco that she would not play in the national matches at Forest Hills nor would she devote the time she has in the past to tennis, playing only occasionally "for fun." And here she is at her designing table, which work is taking her away from the sport she loves.

MY TEAM

The team then that I would choose is as follows, taken in the order of batting:

A. W. HAYWARD (captain)
J. P. Williams
T. A. Pearce
A. H. Madar
E. L. Gozano
N. A. E. Mackay
Capt. D. W. Persse
C. C. Garthwaite
D. M. Pritchard
A. R. Minu
F. D. Periera

There is one obvious criticism to be made, and that is the low position in which he has put Garthwaite. But the men above him are all forcing bats, Gozano and Persse anyway, and Mackay played some very fine attacking innings last season. But there is always a chance of a bat of this type being out early on, and I have seen Garthwaite play so many excellent knocks and appear capable of staying there all day, so long as he does not worry about going for the runs, that I have put him low down to hold the fort if necessary or to stop with someone who gets going whether he be the men higher in the order or our two sloggers at the end.

CRITICISMS, PLEASE!

Having suitably reduced my readers to fury in many cases by bluntly putting forward my own ideas, they can now derive (I hope) much pleasure from showing their friends exactly what sort of a mug I am. There is one obvious criticism to be made and that is that I have omitted E. F. Fincher. I think I may very likely be wrong in so doing and perhaps should have put him in place of Pritchard. My reasons for not doing so are that E. F. does not bowl in an Interport anyway—whereas Pritchard gives us a slow right-hand spinner. Fincher is a much more brilliant bat but he is apt to be out before he gets going. At the same time there is no denying that he is a magnificent fielder.

ABSENTEES

Thinking things over, it strikes me that the only two men in the Colony who cannot go, but who would otherwise walk into the side are H. Owen Hughes and E. C. Fincher. Their absence will be a great blow to the strength of the team as, apart from their batting, they are probably the finest first and second slips in the Colony. It is quite possible that I have overlooked others but at the moment of writing they seem the only outstanding cases, except perhaps Richardson. F. C. Goodwin has not sent in his name, or he, of course, would be well in the running.

SHANGHAI

It is too early yet to say much about the Shanghai side. There are rumours that Donald Leach will be back, but in view of the fact that A. J. Barson has been chosen captain, I think it is very unlikely. Barson is a cricketer of whom we have never seen the best down here, but the Shanghai critics have a very high opinion of him. The other two men (of whom I can speak from personal knowledge) who are likely to prove very dangerous are Stokes and Booth Isaacs, I regret to hear has had to give up the game at present owing to eye trouble. But there is no doubt that Shanghai will have a pretty hot team out to play us and we shall need all the practice we can get, and this very particularly includes fielding practice.

There is no doubt that the date chosen is far less satisfactory to Hongkong than the old one in May. Apart from the question of heat, our weather makes it very doubtful whether our men will be able to get enough wickets which can be played on for proper practice in September. But I gather that there are equally cogent reasons from Shanghai's point of view against the May fixture and we must of course give them their good try out.

London, Sept. 2.—Home teams swept the board in today's First League football matches. Chelsea pleased the Stamford Bridge crowd with an odd goal win over Grimsby, while Sunderland, the champions, scrambled home to a win at Roker Park against Derby County.

Actually, out of the 20 matches played there was only one away winner. Notts County earned this distinction at Selhurst Park. Aston Villa had to rest content with a goal apiece draw against Notts Forest. Results as cabled by Reuter follow.

RACE TRAINING TIMES EARLY PREPARATIONS FOR NEXT MEETING ON SEPTEMBER 26

STRATHROY IN FINE CONDITION

Although there is still ample time before the racing season resumes on September 26, many ponies were seen in action at the Happy Valley course yesterday morning, when a number of old-timers were put to galloping in slow time. Favourites such as Mistake Bay, Oak Bay, Rose Queen, Ribble, King's Jubilee, Sadko and Strathroy were among those exercising.

Strathroy, which was responsible for a number of wins early this season, should be seen to better advantage on its present fine form.

strange conditions and this may easily prevent him from being at his best. But Budgie at Forest Hills is more likely to be twice as dangerous as Budgie at Wimbledon, or Eastbourne, or Paris; and it's worth bearing in mind that he beat both Austin and Perry at Eastbourne a week after entering the semi-finals at Wimbledon. If Perry does survive and win this championship, it will be a performance equally creditable to that of Wimbledon for he has many more varied obstacles to overcome at Forest Hills, not the least being the court surfaces.

DEEP Water Bay golf course has enjoyed great popularity this summer. Players who would not care to face the ordeal of a round at Fanling in the hot weather find it just suits them, added to which, of course, is the additional attraction of a dip in the bay. At week-ends in particular, the course has been greatly patronised, so much so that there is sometimes a waiting list of as many as twenty couples! For the player used to a big course, Deep Water Bay has its drawbacks, but

JAPANESE SWIMMING TEAM'S SUCCESS Beat French in Four Events, But Lose Water Polo

Paris, Aug. 31. Japanese Olympic swimmers yesterday gained most of the victories in an aquatic gala held at the swimming pool of the Tourelles Stadium. Their successes were:—
100 metres international, won by Yushita, 1 min. 3 sec.
100 metres back-stroke, won by Yushita, 1 min. 12.4 sec.
800 metres relay, won by Japanese team, 9 min. 25.1 sec.
400 metres international, won by Makino, 5 min. 12 sec.
The French swimmers played brilliantly in the water-polo match, defeating their Japanese opponents by 5-1.

It certainly has its uses for approach play, and also tends to cultivate straight hitting. There is, however, general criticism of the use of rubber mats on the tees. For one thing, some of these mats do not lie evenly on the ground, with the result that it is almost impossible to get a firm grip with the feet. Moreover, there is insufficient "give" in them, with the danger always present, if one happens to hit a little too low, of damaging one's club. The old cork mats were infinitely preferable. But, most Deep Water Bay patrons ask, why have any mats at all?

Jock Creighton Retains His China Title KOREAN FAILS TO LAST COURSE

Shanghai, Sept. 1. Although the Korean fighter lived up to his reputation of a hard hitter during the early rounds of the fight, Chong Tho On was unable to stand up to the even harder punches of Jock Creighton at the Yengping Road Pavilion last night, and his seconds threw in the towel at the end of the seventh round. Kid Bennett, the British boxer from Singapore who was expected to make his debut in the local arena, was unfortunately ill, and his place last night was taken by Joe Sacramento, who won his bout against Kolla Urovitch.

Although the crowd was small, it was a very enthusiastic one, feeling running so high during the semi-final event that two of the ringside spectators nearly came to blows over the question of whether not one of the fighters had fouled the other.

Creighton, conceding him a pound to his Korean adversary, had little chance in the early rounds to make use of his longer reach and red puncher soon appeared on his body from one or two telling blows that Chong managed to get in during the frequent clinches. The first round closed fairly even.

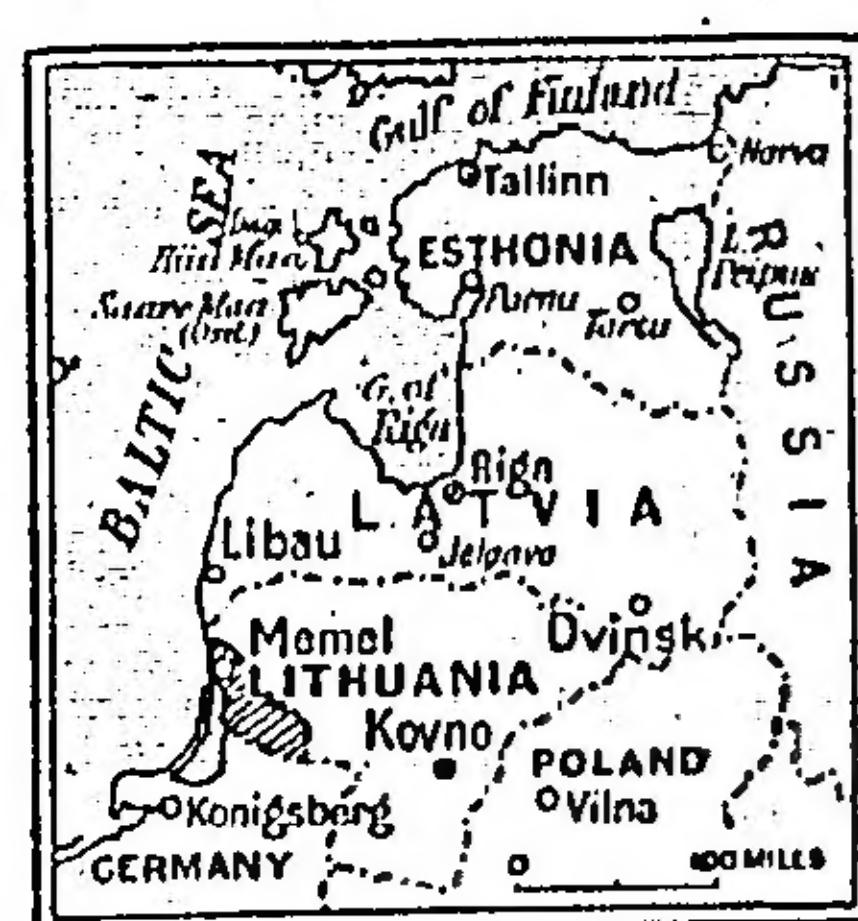

The second and third rounds were practically a repetition of each other, both fighters tending to mix it up.

Several times, bursts of laughter broke out, as

DANGER SPOTS of Europe

BY W. N. EWER

To facilitate the settlement of those problems, the solution of which is essential to the peace of Europe."

Thus the communiqué at the end of last week's London conversations. It is the new programme; and it is deliberately vague.

Vague because Eden, Blum and Van Zeeland have realised that for three States to declare that this, this and this and nothing else are the problems for solution would be to waste everything at the beginning.

But what are the problems at the back of their minds? What are the questions which might today, or in the next year or so, start a European war?

Any More?

Of course, one answer to that is that the causes of war are deep and nothing really to do with the immediate pretexts.

On this theory war in Europe is sooner or later inevitable, because of:

(a) The age-long racial struggle between Teuton and Slav (or Teuton and Latvian, or Slav and Mongol).

(b) The insoluble conflict between Freedom and Democracy (or Capitalism and Communism).

(c) The economic clash of rival industrial States seeking markets.

(d) The pressure of expanding populations confined within inadequate territory.

To these racial, ideological, economic and democratic theories of war (or any mixture of same), you may, with a little ingenuity, add quite a lot of others.

Look Back

But all the same it would be a big mistake to overlook the fact that wars do come over specific questions, and that if solutions can be found for specific questions, wars may be avoided.

You have only got to look back in dozen years or so to find people pronouncing an inevitable:

(a) A Russo-Romanian war over Bessarabia.

- (b) A Russo-Japanese war over the Chinese Eastern Railway.
- (c) A German-Polish war over Silesia and the Corridor.
- (d) A German-Italian war over Austria.
- (e) A Franco-German war over the Saar.

And others, too. But the wars have not come, because, though "underlying causes" are not there, immediate problems have been solved.

Danger Spots

Immediate solutions then are worth while. What are Europe's immediate problems to-day? What are the "danger-spots"?

Most people I suppose would answer: Memel, Danzig, Czechoslovakia, Austria having for the moment slid from first place well into the background.

Memel, Danzig, Czechoslovakia, then. The names are familiar enough. But what are the questions which are seriously being debated at possible (and so presumably sufficient) reasons for a new World War?

Let us look at Memel.

About Memel

Memel before the Versailles Treaty, was in Germany, right at the very tip, where the old Russo-German frontiers met the Baltic Sea. It is a purely German town, with a few thousand Lithuanians in the rural districts, around.

In 1918 it was taken from Germany, because it was "the only possible outlet to the sea" for the Lithuanians and White Russian countries behind.

But the Allies had not decided what to do about those countries. Had Tsarism lasted they would have been given back to the Tsar. Now there were some who wanted an independent Lithuania; some who wanted the country united with Poland.

All were afraid that at any moment Lithuania might "go Bolshevik". To give a city to a country which might any day be a Soviet Republic would be most unwise.

So the Allies kept Memel for the time being under their own control, until they should decide its fate.

Thirteen Years Ago

There was talk of making it a self-governing Free State; a prospect which alarmed the Lithuanians, who saw the prize slipping out of their hands; because a self-governing Memel would be a German Memel.

So in the early days of January, 1923, some Lithuanian "volunteers" entered Memel, began a "rising" and appealed for help.

Lithuanian troops marched in; the tiny French garrison surrendered.

The Powers protested, negotiated, acquiesced. The High Commissioner was withdrawn. Memel was ceded to Lithuania, under conditions that it should have local self-government.

There wasullen anger in Germany;

but these were the days when the French were in the Ruhr.

Since then Memel has been Lithuanian territory, but with a Home-Rule system, set out in the "Statute of Memel," and guaranteed by the four "Principal Allied Powers": Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

And others, too. But the wars have not come, because, though "underlying causes" are not there, immediate problems have been solved.

Since then there has been a continuing trouble. Lithuanian governments have appointed pro-Lithuanian Directorates, in whom the Landtag has voted no confidence. The Landtag has been dissolved and kept dissolved.

There have been momentary settlements, usually after pressure on Lithuania from the Powers—and then the trouble has begun again.

Accusations

The Memellanders have accused the Lithuanians of violating the Statute. The Lithuanians have accused the Memellanders of conspiring with Germany.

In 1932 things got to the point at which the German head of the Directorate was dismissed and arrested. The Powers intervened. After a stormy diplomatic interlude the Lithuanians adopted a wiser attitude. Both sides became conciliatory.

There were two years of tranquillity, and then, because of Nazism, it all broke out again.

Nazi propaganda and Nazi outrages in Memel scared the Lithuanians. Again the German directorate was dismissed. The Landtag was suspended by a ruse. A hundred Nazis were arrested and convicted on charges of treason and murder; the charges were of treason and murder; the Memellanders had a grand trial, and looking smart does make a lot of worries seem less worrying. Among the new "facial charmers" are some interesting Upsetters. Manufacturers have succeeded in producing lip rouges that are sufficiently indelible to last for several hours without drying the lips.

Another newcomer to the cosmetic counters is a lipstick which prevents the colour turning "blue" on the lips. Many women find that after a short while their lips get a bluish look.

Lip pencils are gaining in popularity here.

AS SEEN BY

Showed here is the eddy below Bonneville Dam, the huge hydroelectric project on the Columbia River, where migrant salmon, it is charged, are being halted on their way upstream. The Columbia Rivermen's Protective Association has charged Government officials with having violated an agreement to allow salmon upstream passage, thus threatening one of the Pacific Northwest's important industries. Thousands of salmon mill blindly around in the eddy, unable to find their way through the swift water upstream.

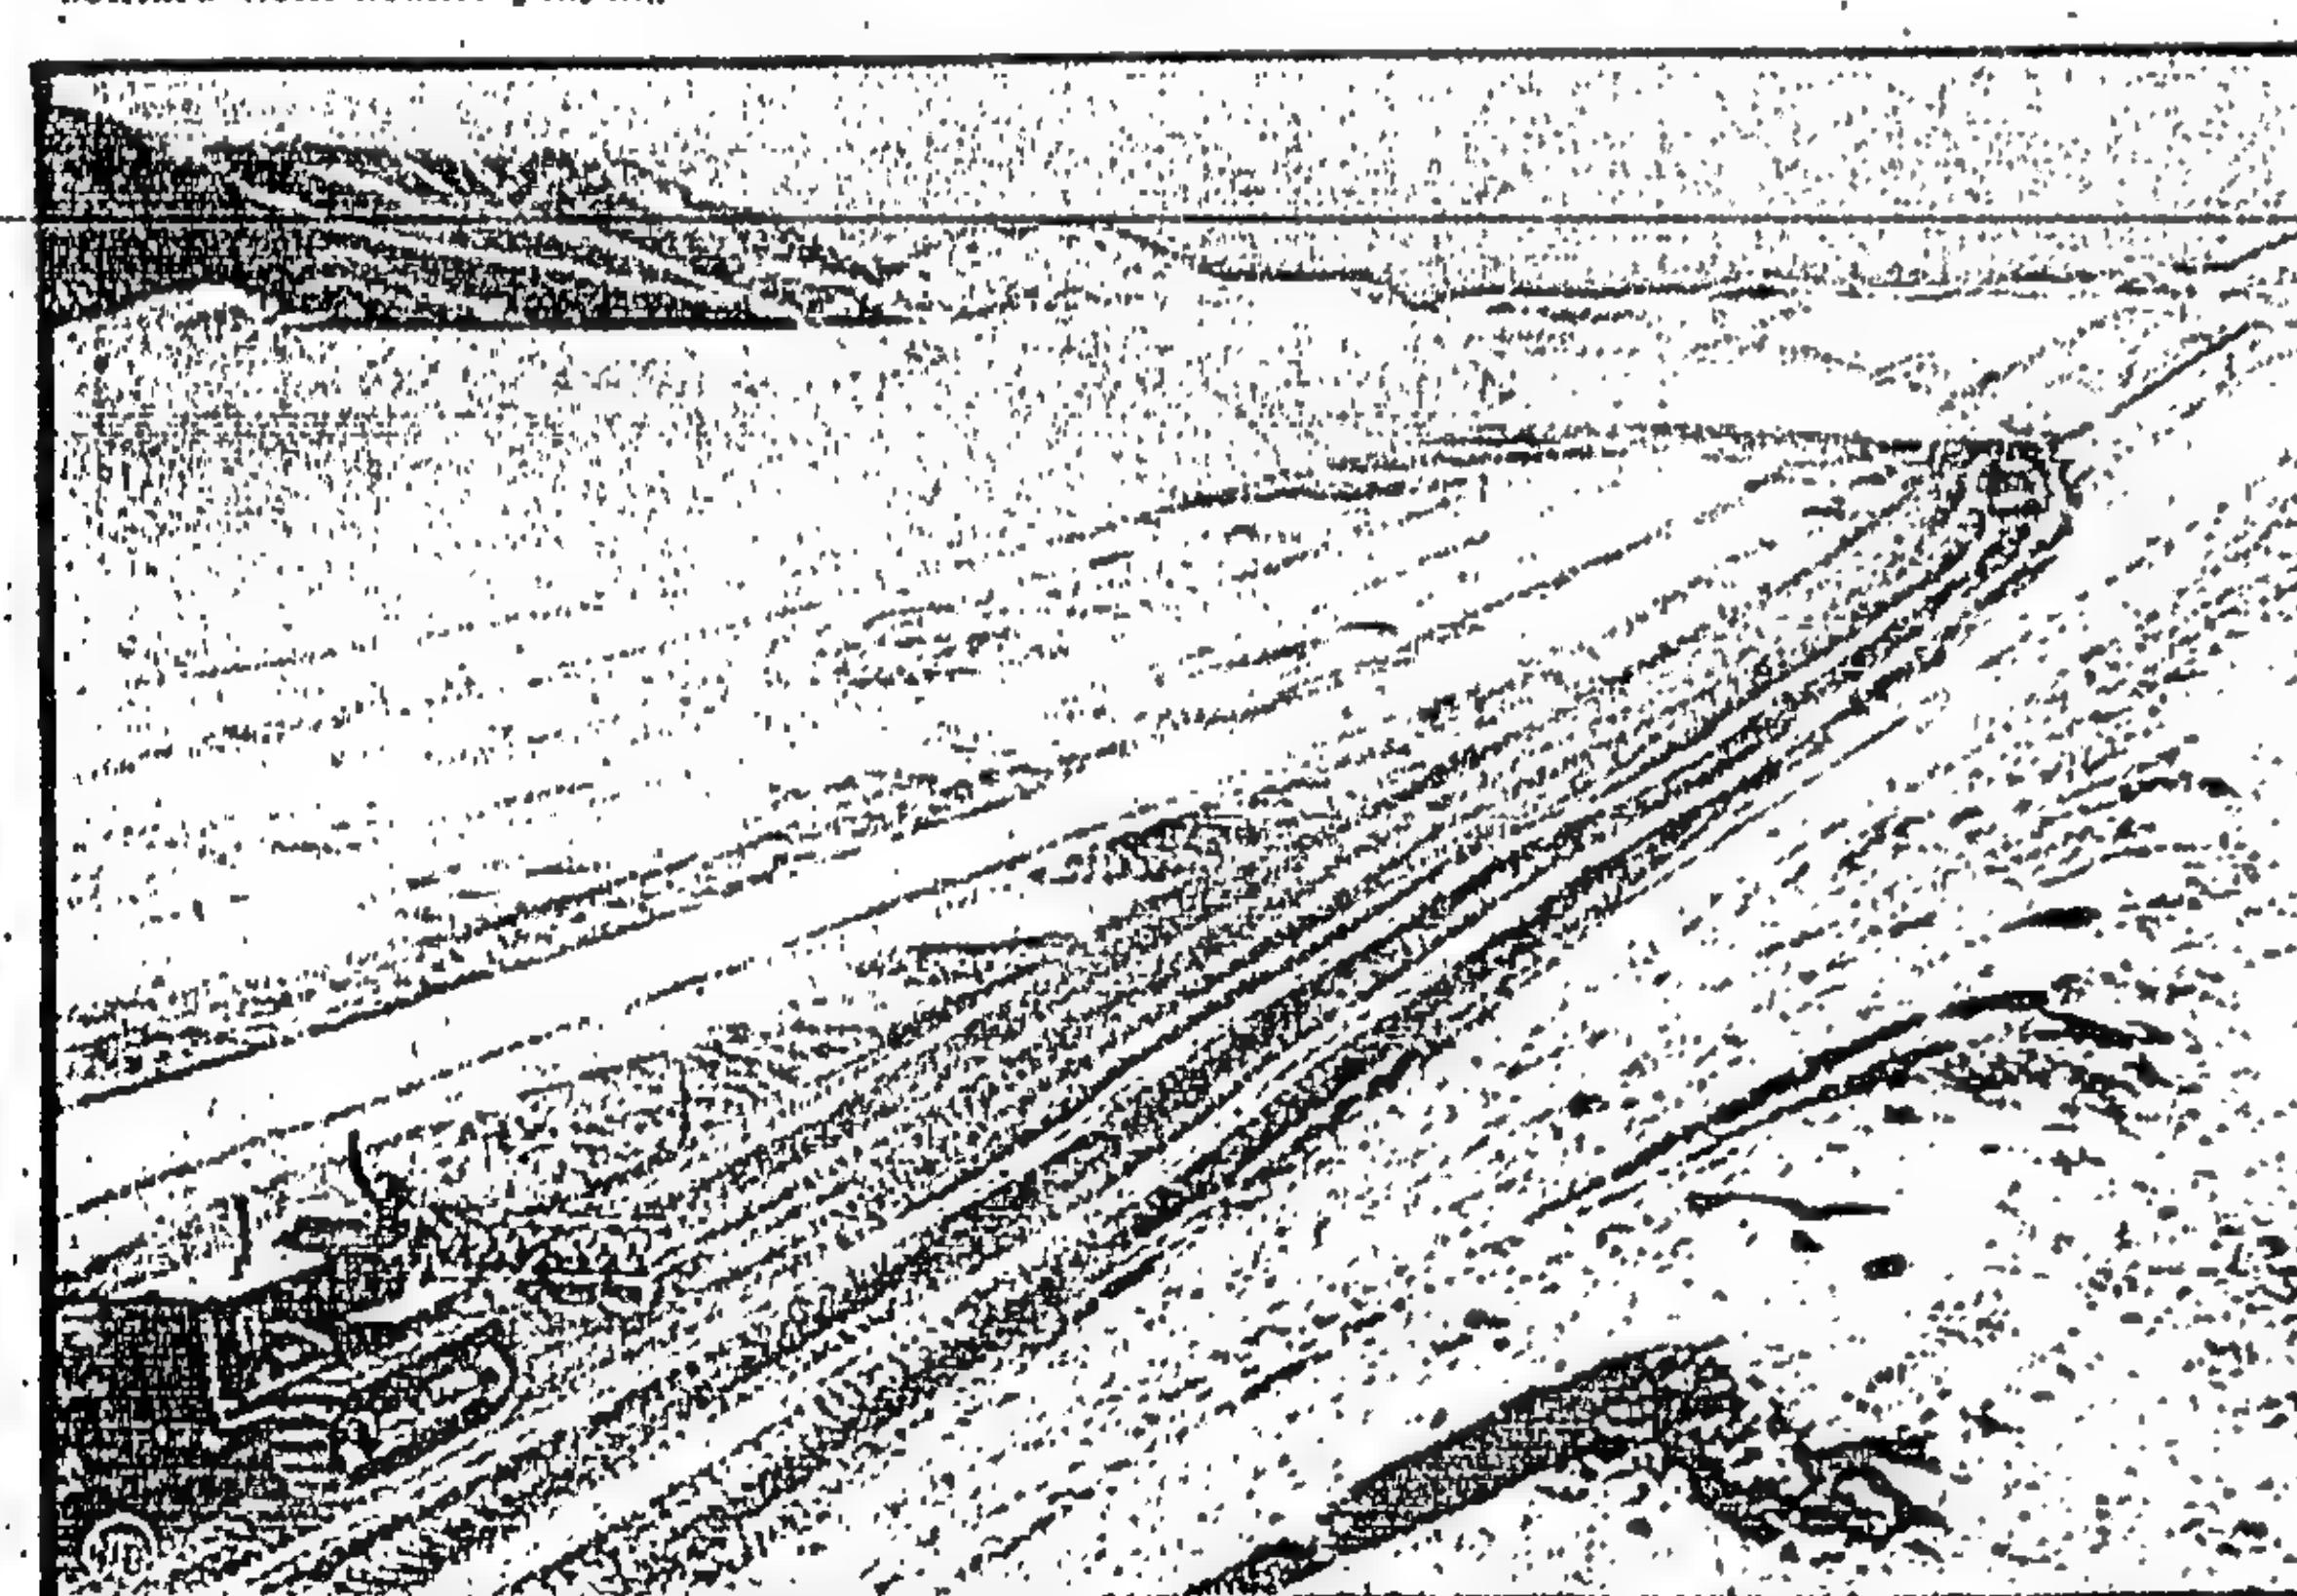

Even equine participants in the San Diego Exposition show their admiration for Tanya, queen of the nudist colony, as witness the eye-rolling act being put on by Valencia. Valencia was one of the prize winning steeds in the Ninth Annual Coronado Horse Show.

Newest newlyweds in the Hollywood motion picture colony are Irene Hervey and Allan Jones, who were married in a quiet ceremony at the bride's home in Hollywood. Both are featured film players.

An injury to his eye 14 years ago may be corrected and sight restored to Robert W. McCoy, blind University of California student, through a daring operation. Surgeons found that his childhood injury had detached the retina of his eye from the choroid, allowing the watery sub-retinal fluid to seep between. By means of electricity they hope to drive platinum pins—two millimeters long—in the eyeball, drain the fluid and effect a reunion of retina and choroid. McCoy is shown playing roulette with braille playing cards.

The biggest irrigation ditch ever dug in the United States is the All-American Canal, taking water from the Colorado River into the Imperial Valley of California. Photo shows a section being lined with clay. Over 44 miles of the 80-mile canal have been excavated.

GUARDSMAN'S DASH TO HOME OFFICE

Leave To Wed Fraulein

By FRANK WALTON

A GERMAN girl and a sturdy young Welsh Guardsman appeared at Bow-street recently to plead that the girl should not be deported so that they can marry.

The girl, Gertrud Jakob, aged 28, stated to be of good character, was charged under the Aliens Act with remaining in the country without permission; and her sweetheart, Thomas Henry John, aged 25, a Welsh Guardsman stationed at Wellington Barracks, told the magistrate, Sir Rollo Graham-Campbell, that they had arranged to marry by special licence.

The Guardsman's plea must have touched the official heart, for Fraulein Jakob, recently employed at Mount Royal, Marble Arch, was fined £3—and no recommendation for deportation was made.

Guardsman John produced three crinkling Bank of England notes and, arm in arm, they left the court to prepare for the wedding.

Fraulein Jakob, who has a voice like Marlene Dietrich, told me all about their romance when I found them sitting on a bench in St. James's Park.

"TOM SAVED ME" Gertrud had spent the night in tears in a Bow-street cell. The world had then seemed at an end.

"It was all a big mistake," she said. "I thought that I could stay, but the Home Office want me to go. Then a policeman came for me and take me away."

"Tell them I cannot go, that I am to be married to my Tom on Monday. But they say 'No,' and I was so unhappy, and I cried."

"And this morning, when I feel that there is no hope, my Tom fly to the magistrate in a taxi and I am saved."

"THE WORLD IS ALL RIGHT"

Tom, said Gertrud, had been to the Home Office and everything had been arranged.

"And so, sighed Gertrud happily, 'the world is all right.'

To her Guardsman she said: "Ich liebe dich, mein liebe" ["I love you, my darling"].

Although Guardsman John knows no German, he smiled as happily as she.

POLICEMAN BECOMES PRIEST

London, Aug. 15. SIX years ago Father S. Duffin, newly-ordained priest of the Roman Catholic Church, patrolled London streets as a police constable.

He did that for two years—in the Notting Hill division; then resigned.

Officers at the station last night scrutinized thick-heads as they read his message from Rome.

"Charles Duffin, with you until 1930, ordained as priest in Roman Catholic Church."

A former colleague said last night: "Duffin is tall, fair, and good-looking. He worked here two years. He was a good policeman and a real philosopher. That's all we know about him."

Police Constable Duffin did not even tell his friends that he intended changing from policeman's blue to priest's black.

He was born at Glengarnock (Ayrshire) twenty-eight years ago; has another year's study in Rome before he comes home.

BRIDE WASHED WITH CARBOLIC SOAP

A YOUNG bride who was stripped naked in a Manchester prison and washed with carbolic soap was awarded £4,719 damages at the Lancashire Assizes.

Mrs. Frances Irene Lowick, who is 21, won her action for false imprisonment and malicious prosecution against Philip Lazarus and his son, Adolph, calico printers of Manchester.

Mr. Lazarus, senior, is a Manchester magistrate.

Mrs. Lowick was a secretary at the firm, and left to get married.

CELL PLANK BED

A fortnight later she was arrested on a charge of forgery and falsification of the firm's books and taken to a cell with a plank bed and only one blanket.

Next morning she was forcibly stripped naked and washed with carbolic soap.

When brought up in Court, she was found not guilty. —Reuter.

BOY'S EXPERIMENT ENDS IN TRAGEDY

London, Aug. 10. A book on conjuring, open at illustrations of knot tying, was near the body of William Alfred Grinnell, 16, of Hounslow, near Hounslow, found hanging in a locked bathroom. The coroner, Mr. T. Holby, said at the inquest on Saturday that the lad had apparently been experimenting on himself, having read about Houdini, the "escapist."

The victim was death from mal-adventure.

Post Office Pays for Error

As the result of a wrongly transmitted telegram, a woman was forced to take a taxi from a town in Fife to Glasgow to meet a liner, there being no train that would get her there in time.

She is to have her fare refunded by the Post Office.

The woman is Mrs. Aitchison, of South Glencairn, Fife.

Mr. W. Gallagher, M.P. for West Fife, raised the question in Parliament.

Frank J. Heftlin, held by Los Angeles police in connection with the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Dorothy Corcoran, former film extra.

He told police she stabbed herself after a lovers' quarrel.

BAFFLING NEW MYSTERY RAY

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WELLINGBOROUGH, AUG. 20.

I SURPRISED A SCENE REMINISCENT OF SOME FUTUREISTIC WONDER FILM IN A SHED LABORATORY HERE TO-DAY. "THE BOY IN THE IRON MASK" WAS ENVELOPED IN A STRANGE RED GLOW, HANDLING HIS DELICATE VALVES AND INSTRUMENTS WITH RUBBER GLOVES, DABBING IN THE UNKNOWN, IN THE SECRETS WHICH SCIENCE ONLY YIELDS AT HER OWN GRIM PRICE.

But Frank Manning, Wellingborough's seventeen-year-old radio marvel, is ready and willing to pay that price.

For days he lay in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London, stricken with a curious malady, believed to be a victim of a dandy "mystery ray," on which he stumbled while trying to split infra-red rays.

Now, fit and well again, Frank is at work on his experiments. But he himself laughs at the suggestion that his illness was due to any thing in the nature of a death ray.

Young Manning removed his mask, and greeted me with a boyish grin.

In my experiment I use sound, ultraviolet and infra-red frequencies, I believe that somehow I got caught in between the three of them," he told me in regard to his illness.

"I was kneeling down, my television apparatus switched on, when from nowhere, came a sledge-hammer blow. I was knocked flat, and in my fall just managed to switch off the apparatus.

IN A TRANCE

"Later I tried the same experiment on a friend. He stood as if nothing had happened. But when I shook him, I found he was in a kind of trance. He could not speak or hear. Then he fainted, and on recovering remembered nothing."

"I myself, after that, became a prey to fainting spells. Once I lost my memory and eight miles from home, fell off my bike."

"I was picked up by a passing motorist and was unconscious for an hour and a half."

"During that time my body was deep red in colour, and I was as limp as a rag. My parents became alarmed, and the doctor ordered me to hospital."

Young Manning pulled the iron mask over his head and got down to work again.

"Now you see," he explained, "the extra precautions I take to protect myself."

SAILOR'S GUILT IN RATTLESNAKE CASE

MURDER VERDICT AT LOS ANGELES

HUSBAND'S FATE IN DOUBT

Los Angeles, Aug. 12. A verdict of murder in the first degree was returned in the "Rattlesnake" Murder Case here to-day against a former American sailor, Charles Hope.

Hope was charged with being an accomplice of Robert S. James, a barber, in the murder of James' fifth wife, Mary James, aged 27. The State alleged that James and Hope forced Mrs. James' bare leg into a box of poisonous rattlesnakes, and then, when the poison failed to work quickly enough, that James drowned his wife in a bath.

James was implicated by James, and later made a full confession to the police, explaining that James had hypnotised him. A jury is now deliberating on its verdict in the case of James.

James' first two wives divorced him; the third was drowned in a bath and James collected the insurance on her life. The fourth got the marriage annulled.

James had been heavily inured a short time before his death.

ARMED GUARD FOR SHIRLEY TEMPLE

New York, Aug. 20.

ARMED guards protect Shirley Temple, on holiday at Eureka, California, to-day, after the discovery in her fan mail of a letter demanding £5,000.

The letter said: "Unless 25,000 dollars are dropped from an airplane near Grant, Nebraska, Shirley Temple's life will be in danger."

Meanwhile—In Grant, Nebraska, Sterling Powell, a sixteen-year-old farmboy, was charged with writing the letter, which was traced by its newspaper.

Powell told detectives that he conceived a scheme of kidnapping Shirley after seeing one of her pictures which had a kidnapping theme.

The boy's father said that as soon as the letter had been posted the boy had realised it was "a crazy thing to do."

He then forgot all about it.

Shirley Temple has not been told of the letter. She thinks that the armed guards are studio executives.

NEXT MOVE IN MANCHUKUO

JAPANESE MOTIVES

Russia is the only country worthy of Japan's next "stage act." Dame Rachel Crowdy declared in an address to the Liberal Summer School on "Manchukuo" at Oxford recently.

Dame Rachel was in Manchukuo last year and she said, "Speaking as an amateur onlooker, I think that at any moment trouble may break out between Russia and Japan."

"Neither of them wishes to fight, but each is terribly afraid that the other will gain an advantage if they will."

Japan wanted certain things which Russia possessed and she was also afraid that Russia would break her prestige in the Far East. Japan was faced with great unrest in her own country with the reckoning of unfulfilled promises and with further great borrowing or increased taxation. She might also be faced with bankruptcy or further dangerous adventure.

Japan inclined to think, said Dame Rachel, "that dangerous adventure will be the choice."

She believed that the prestige of Japan had been the strongest motive for her move into Manchukuo.

BANDITS

Japan's claim to have abolished banditry in Manchukuo was not true.

"In Mukden," said Dame Rachel, "every member of the foreign colony has a bandit complex. I went for a walk with friends. We zigzagged backwards and forwards and shied away from bushes that could not have concealed even a baby bandit."

REBELS CAPTURE KEY POINTS IN IRUN ATTACK LOYALISTS' SITUATION DESPERATE

Carlist Flag Flying On Highest Ridges

Hendaye, Sept. 2.

It was learned late to-night that the rebel forces attacking Irún and San Sebastian had captured the strongly defended positions on Puncha Hill.—Reuter.

FORTRESS FALLS

Biriatou, Sept. 2.

The rebels have captured Fort San Martial, key-point in the Irún defences, hoisting the Carlist flag at 2.19 p.m., culminating a day of bloody hand-to-hand fighting.—United Press.

STORY OF ASSAULT

Biriatou, Sept. 2.

The rebel troops, commanded by General Mola, having gained half a mile of ground in a ferocious assault on the outer defences of Irún, stormed the border village of Behobia to-day and routed the loyalist defenders from the shattered advance fortifications of Puncha Hill.

A barrage of machine-gun, rifle and artillery fire, punctuated by aerial bombings, blasted the way to the outskirts of Behobia. With its capture, the Carlist flag was raised on the Customs House flagpole.

Unable to withstand the withering fire, the loyalists broke and fled into Behobia, pausing temporarily to set fire to two deserted automobiles. Armoured cars, spitting bullets and ejecting hand grenades, reinforced the insurgent infantry as the Customs House was stormed. Here three French militiamen were killed by grenades, their 13 Spanish companions fleeing earlier.

Fire Across Border

The rebels, convinced that spies on the French side of the border were directing the loyalist artillery, fired at any moving object on the French side of the frontier.

Eventually the insurgents occupied the ridge overlooking Behobia, while the defenders fired from the shelter of houses.

The smashing offensive against the town commenced at 2.14 p.m., following a morning lull owing to fog. Thereafter the fighting recommenced under a broiling sun, but it was only a matter of minutes before Behobia fell.—United Press.

Desperate Situation

Biriatou, Sept. 2. After a spell in which both sides on the Irún front were busy consolidating their positions and repairing their defences, heavy fighting recommenced this afternoon. Machine-guns and artillery vigorously bombarded opposite lines.

The situation for the Government troops suddenly changed for the worse when the insurgents made a big advance, occupying nearly the whole of Mount Tunibile, the main bastion of the loyal defences before Irún.

Observers on the frontier believe the Government position is now desperate, as the capture of the ridge opens the way to the command of the main road from Irún to San Sebastian.—Reuter.

Fierce Resistance

Hendaye, Sept. 2. Irún is now in a desperate plight, with the insurgents almost on the outskirts of the town and the defenders driven back from key positions. The defenders at La Puncia offered desperate resistance to the Government troops. They clung to their positions under a withering hail of machine-guns and rifle fire.

SOUTH CHINA PEACE PARLEY

Eyes of Nation On Nanning

COMPRIZE INDICATED

Shanghai, Sept. 3.

The attention of the nation is focussed upon Nanning, where a peace conference between Nanking and Kwangsi delegates is reported to have been in progress since yesterday.

The peace mission, comprising Mr. Chu Cheng, President of the Judicial Yuan, General Cheng Chien, Chief of the General Staff, and General Chu Pei-je, Director of Military Education, arrived at Nanning on noon yesterday.

They were welcomed by representatives of General Li Jung-ien and General Pei Chung-hsi.

They presented autographed letters from Marshal Chiang Kai-shek and Dr. Wang Chun-hui.

It is generally expected that an important announcement as to the outcome of the conference will be made before the week-end.

Meanwhile, a report from Hongkong says that the Kwangsi leaders are showing a more compromising attitude.

According to the Chinese press, General Li and Pei have telephoned to the Kwangtung Military Headquarters, stating that the Kwangsi troops in South-western Kwangtung are rapidly withdrawing from their original positions.—Reuter.

PROBING CHENGDU INCIDENT

JAPAN AWAITING FULL REPORT

REASSURANCES FROM CHINA

Nanking, Sept. 3.

The Chengdu incident, involving the murder of two Japanese by a Chinese mob and the injury of several others, is still smouldering, with the Foreign Office representatives continuing to investigate the circumstances at the seat of trouble.

Meanwhile, it is understood Japan will not open negotiations to settle the affair until she receives a detailed report from Mr. M. Matsumura, third Secretary of the Japanese Embassy, who is pursuing a separate investigation in Chengdu, the Szechuan capital.

According to this correspondent, M. Edouard Duladier, the War Minister, estimates that in October the German army will number 650,000 men, of whom 280,000 will be professional soldiers, compared to the French military strength of 400,000, of whom only 60,000 are professionals.

It is an undeniable fact that the insurgents in Spain are receiving more help than Government forces and also that Portugal is a corridor for the passage of supplies to the rebel army.—United Press.

STOP PRESS

TROOPS MEET BANDITS

Oaxaca, Sept. 2. In a clash at Ocotlán, 25 miles south of here, federal soldiers fought with 200 rebels looting a village.

Six of the bandits were slain and the soldiers lost two of their captives and a sergeant.—United Press.

CLOSELY BELEAGUERED

MALAGA—the ancient city from which the British destroyer Shamrock evacuated British residents and visitors, is now closely besieged by rebels and its fall is expected.

FRANCE ANSWERS GERMANY

WILL INCREASE WAR SUPPLIES

SEEKING NEW ALLIANCES

Paris, Sept. 2.

France's reply to Germany's increase in the period of military service is likely to consist of a quantitative and qualitative increase in guns and war-materials, according to well-informed diplomatic correspondents.

L'Intransigeant's diplomatic correspondent believes that the extension of French military service will be rejected on economic grounds.

Simultaneously, however, France will likely forge ahead with the organisation of collective security pacts, in connection with which affirmation of the Franco-Polish Alliance of 1922 is regarded as an important factor.

According to this correspondent, M. Edouard Duladier, the War Minister, estimates that in October the German army will number 650,000 men, of whom 280,000 will be professional soldiers, compared to the French military strength of 400,000, of whom only 60,000 are professionals.

TWO TYPHOONS ONE TO EAST OF BALINTANG

The Manila Observatory, reporting at 8.30 a.m. to-day, gives the positions of two typhoons.

One is situated in about Long. 123, Lat. 29, moving north-west. The position is south-east of Ningpo.

The other is located in about Long. 120, Lat. 10, moving W.N.W. to the east of the Balintang Channel.

The Royal Observatory reports an anticyclone of moderate intensity is moving over Japan and a trough of low pressure remains over China Sea and the Pacific to the east of North Luzon. A small depression or typhoon has moved rapidly northwardly from the Looshaos and will probably enter the coast to the north of Wenchow this morning. Local forecast—East and N.E. winds, moderate to fresh, fair to showery.

Canton, Sept. 3. Contrary to the constant Chinese reports that Mr. Eugene Chen is in Kwangtung, Reuter learns to-day that the ex-Foreign Minister for Chin is still in France, and has no intention of coming to China at present.

HONGKONG AIRMAIL SALVAGED

BAGS FROM SCIPIO RECOVERED

The Postmaster-General of Hongkong was informed by cable from London this morning that all Hongkong air mail was salvaged from the Scipio.

The London Post Office anticipates the message adds, that the fate of only a few items will be finally undisclosed.

The Scipio crashed while alighting in a rough sea in Mirabella Gulf, Crete, with the loss of two lives. The captain, crew of three, and five of the seven passengers were rescued.

The plane was flying from Alexandria to Brindisi when she came down near the Imperial Airways motor yacht, Iperia, which took part in the rescue work.

BRING MUI-TSAIS TO COLONY

GIRLS' STORIES IN COURT

Three women, from Kwangsi, who had taken up residence in the Colony owing to the unsettled conditions in their native provinces, appeared before Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, on charges of keeping unregistered prostitutes.

The defendants were Lo Pui-tse, married woman, residing at No. 21 Fung Tai Terrace, ground floor, charged with keeping an unregistered prostitute, Tong Sol-yuen, alias San Mai, aged 15; Liu Yuet-ku, 34, married woman, residing at the same address, charged in respect of a girl Tsui Lau, aged 11; and Wong Sau-ki, 26, married woman, residing at No. 13 Jaffe Road, first floor, charged in respect of a girl named Ting Ling-chau, alias Hi Hing, aged 11 years.

Defendants pleaded guilty to the charges, saying that they had come to Hongkong recently, and did not know the law.

Sub-Inspectors H. W. Fraser, of the S.C.A., and defendants and the girls were all natives of Kwangsi, and had come to Hongkong quite recently owing to the trouble in that province.

On September 1, he received a message from the Wan Chai Police Station that three suspected unregistered prostitutes had been brought to the station. The girl, Tsui Lau, stated that she had been with her employer for three months, having been sold to defendant's husband for $70. (Shanghai money.) The girl further stated that she had first been sold to an old woman for $30, and on the death of that woman was sold to defendant's husband. Since being

AMERICA LEADS IN WALKER CUP COMPETITION WINS TWO MATCHES IN FOURLSOMES

Pine Valley, Sept. 1.

United States were two matches to the good at the end of the Walker Cup foursomes which were played over the Pine Valley course to-day. Britain succeeded in halving two of the games, but were badly beaten in the other two. The results in brief were:

R. Smith and Ed. White (U.S.) beat J. McLean and John Langley 8 and 7;

J. Goodman and A. Campbell (U.S.) beat H. Thompson and H. Bentley 7 and 5;

C. Yeates and W. Emery (U.S.) halved with M. Dykes and G. Peters;

H. Givin and G. Voigt (U.S.) halved with A. Hill and C. Ewing.

U.S. FORCES AHEAD

Goodman and Campbell were five up at the end of the morning round, though they were all square at the ninth. Reynolds Smith and White were one up, having been square at the ninth hole.

Peters and Dykes, Great Britain, were one up at the ninth and at the end of the round, while Givin and Voigt were three up at the ninth and improved to four up at the round's finish.

The weather was cool and overcast. The only time Thompson and Bentley led was at the tenth, when Thompson's ball struck Goodman's caddie. Campbell, a twelve-year-old put on the eleventh and fourteenth for birdies. The Americans were still five up at the twenty-seventh, the British pair having won only the twenty-fourth hole on the second round.

CRACKED UP

McLean and Langley cracked up in the afternoon, winning only one hole. Playing against Givin and Voigt, Hill and Ewing made a magnificent recovery. They were twice seven down during the afternoon. They might easily have matched a sensational victory had not Hill overcooked at the thirty-second green, his ball striking off the green and into a lake. Tweedell, the British captain, expressed the opinion that the Britons would have won if a different club had been used in this case.

Dykes and Peters were perfect on their homeward play during the morning, having all par figures. The lead alternated all afternoon until the Britons squared with a birdie on the thirty-third hole. Thereafter they halved the remainder.

SINGLES DRAW

The singles draw has been announced as follows:

Thompson vs Goodman;

McLean vs Campbell;

Ewing vs Johnny Fischer, Cincinnati;

Hill vs Smith;

Peters vs Yeates;

Bentley vs G. T. Dunlop, Jr., New York;

Langley vs White.—Reuter.

FLIERS' PLANS

New York, Sept. 2.

Harry Richman, noted Broadway night club owner, and Dick Merrill, veteran air line pilot, left Floyd Bennett airport at 8 a.m. (E.S.T.).

The plan is to make the round trip across the Atlantic, stopping at Croydon, only long enough to refuel.

Forty thousand ping-pong balls, crammed into the wings of the plane, for buoyancy purposes, were among the several safety devices fitted into the machine. Favourable weather conditions are forecast for the flight.

NEWS FOR WOMEN

SUNSHINE MAKE-UP

IT seems that every manufacturer of beauty products has introduced something new in the way of summer make-up this season.

Facing me on my desk at this very moment are four new suntan powders, two new lipsticks for summer make-up, two new nail varnishes, as well as sunproof cream, suntan vanishing cream, suntan oil, and very special soaps for cruising, camping and car or train travel.

YOU can get suntan powders in a great variety of shades.

1. There is one famous make of suntan powder in a soft clear brown which would be most becoming to older women and those whose complexions are inclined to be coarse grained.

2. Is the suntan of an equally famous firm. This is actually brighter tan and would look well on girls with young complexions who take their tan more seriously.

3. Is a real peach-tan. This powder claims to have certain ingredients which have a tonic effect on the skin, and it is air floated through the finest silk which makes it so fine that it clings to the skin.

4. Is a brand new luxury powder called "Copper Powder," and it is real copper shade.

The newest lipstick to go with suntan powder is called Russett, and there is another, which would be excellent for this kind of make-up, which claims not to turn blue on the lips. For the luxury powder there is a lipstick called Nasturtium.

There is a range of powder rouges that would go well with these shades. The best colours would be peony or medium. This type of rouge is put on with a hare's foot.

"Bisque" and "Shrimp" are the names of the newest nail varnishes and they are not only charming colours for suntan, but the varnish is actually very easy to put on yourself.

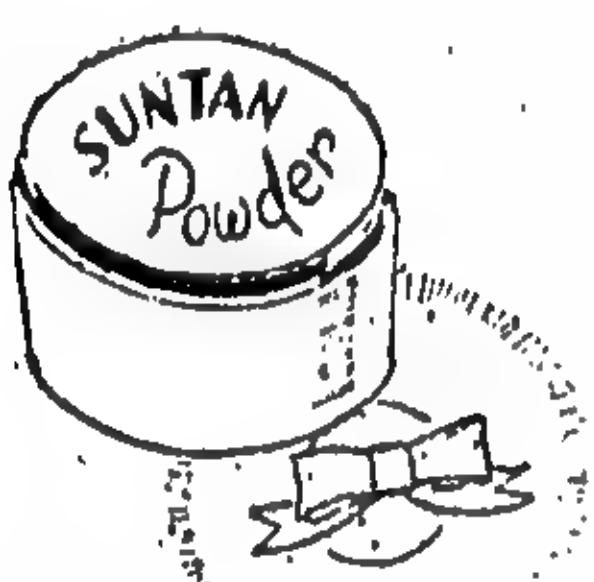

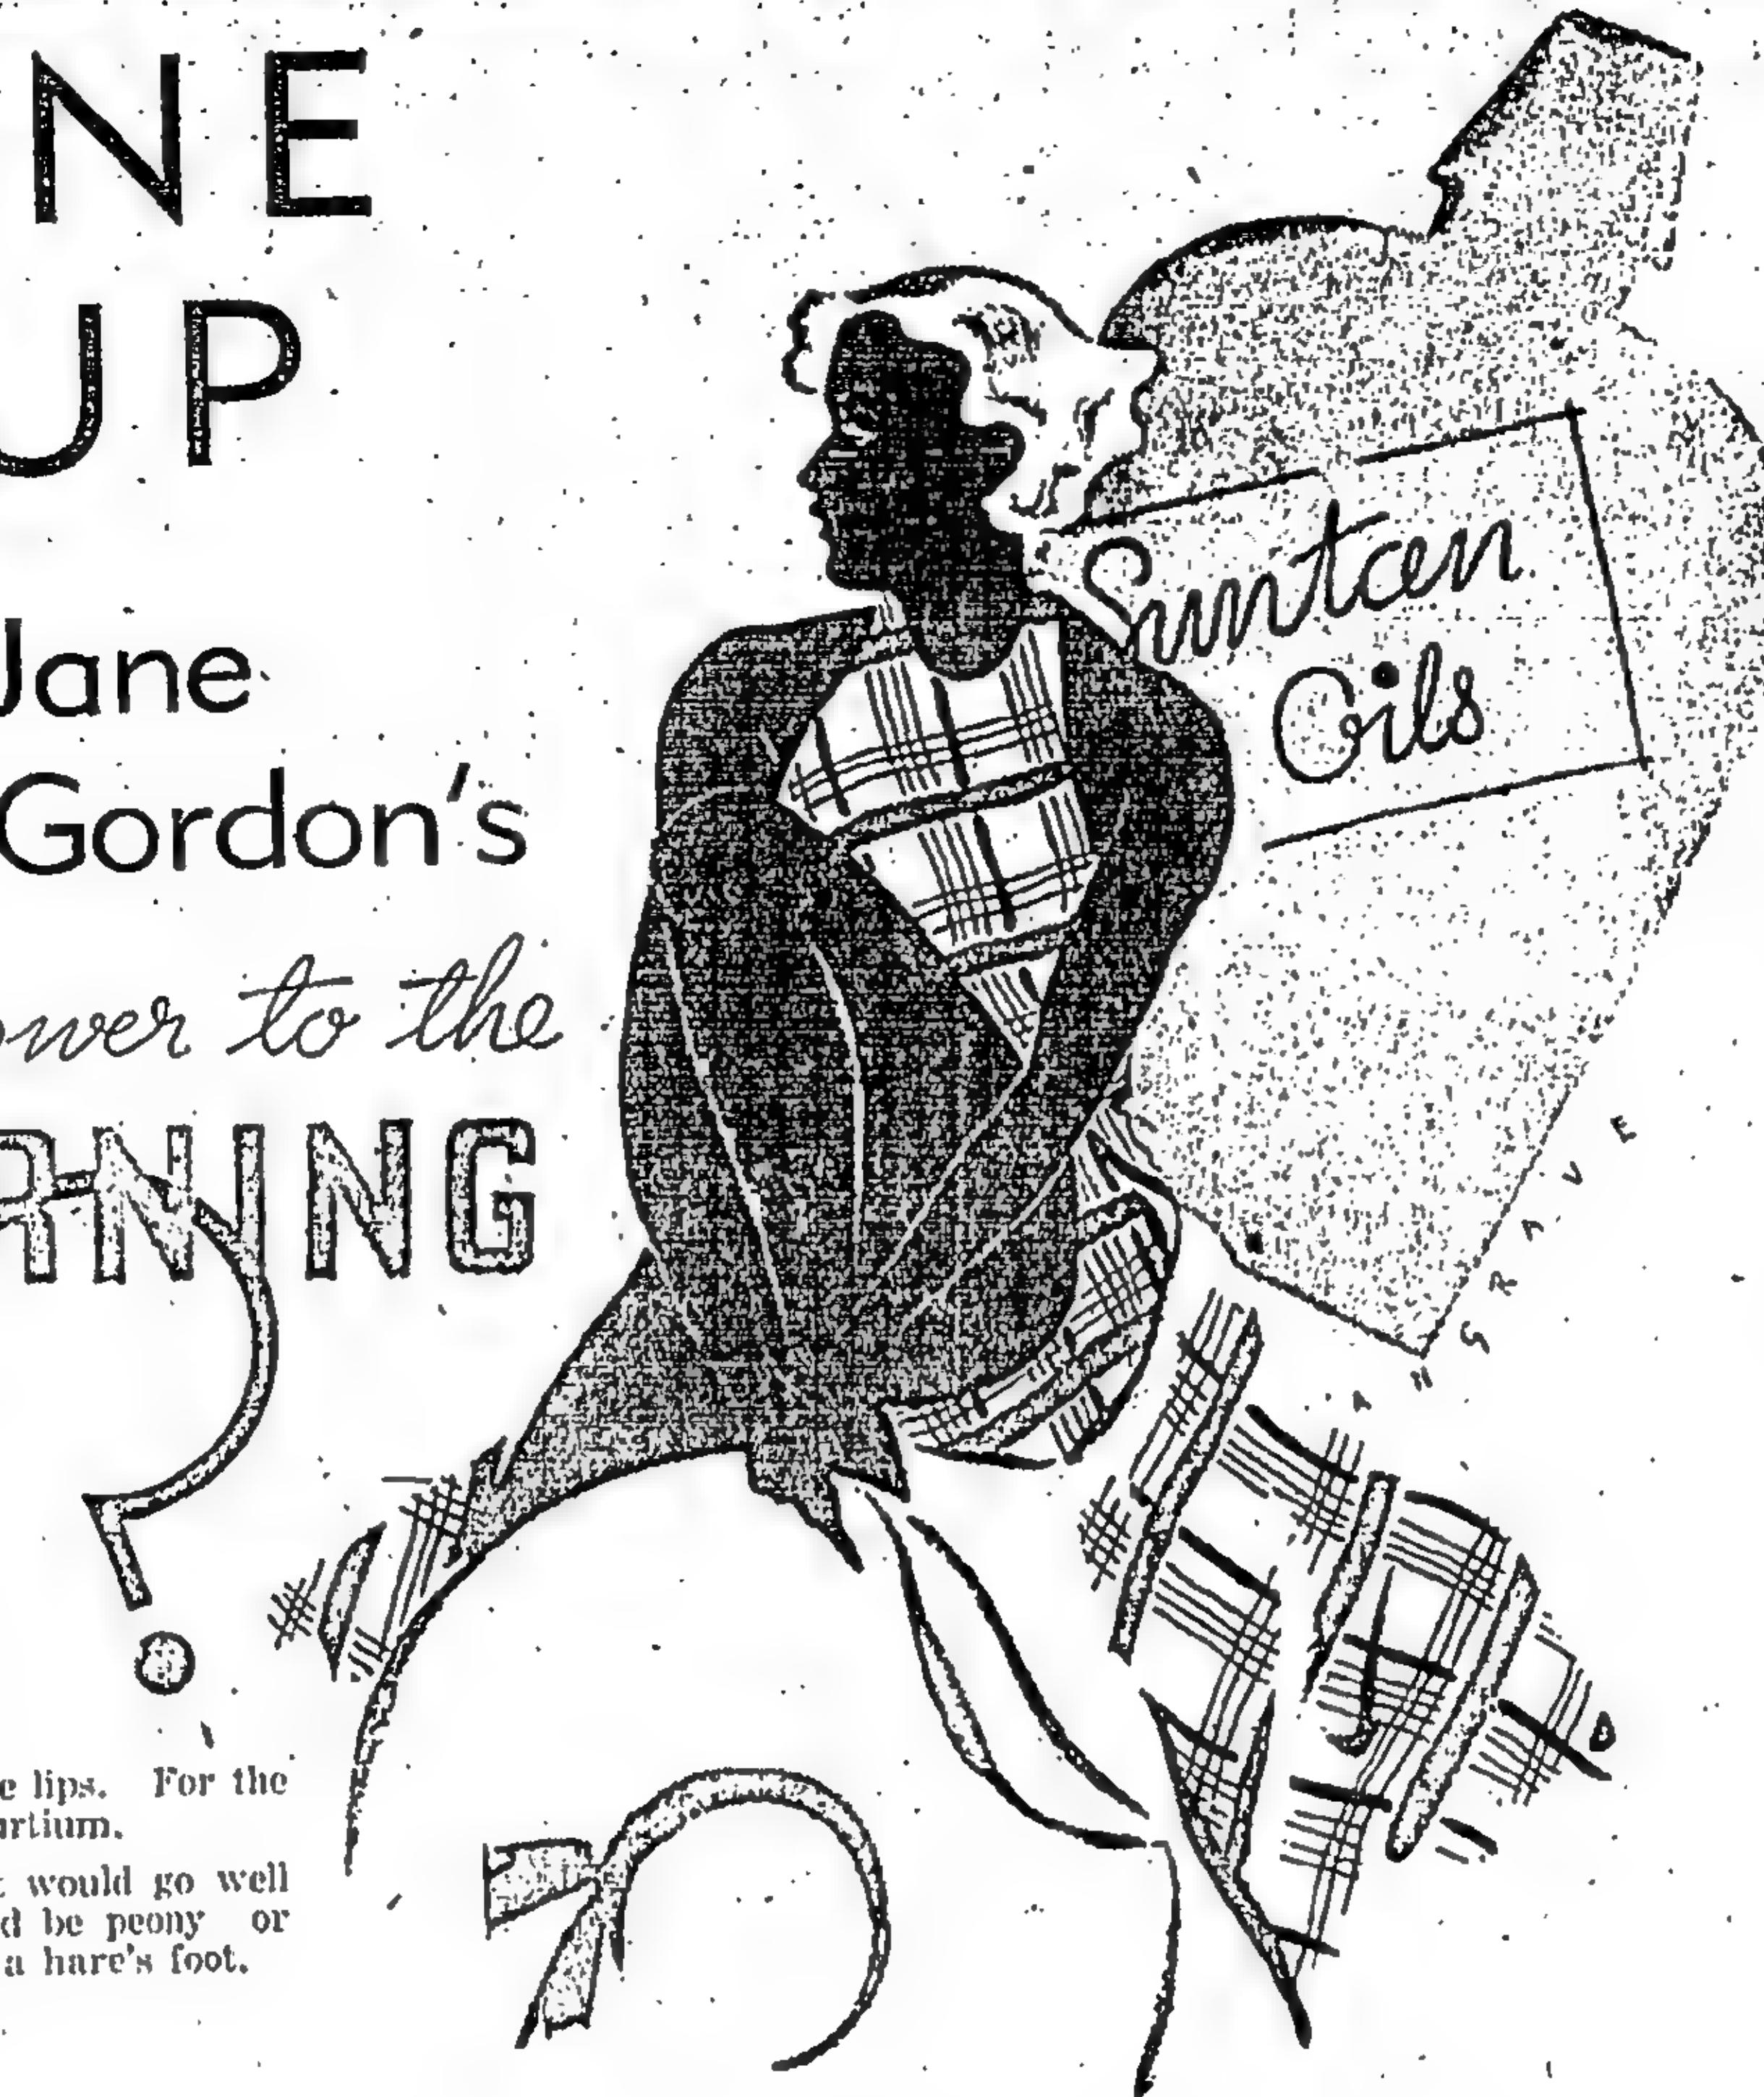

If you want to use a summer tan make-up before you are actually sunburnt the thing to do is to use a suntan foundation cream. This is made like a vanishing cream and can be put on as light or as dark as you like by putting it on while your face is slightly damp to get a lighter effect.

There are also suntan lotions which can be applied to neck, arms and legs, which will stain the skin. Neither of these preparations comes off in water, but can be washed off with soap and water.

The newest liquid suntan foundation for suntan powder gives a tanned effect to the face, hands, arms and neck and at the same time has a cooling and soothing action on a complexion that has been caught by the sun.

If you wish to protect your skin from the sun-and-wind then you must use sunproof or motor cream and rub plenty of oil into your arms, neck and back before you are exposed to the sun.

Turbo is particularly good for this purpose; it does not grow superfluous hair. Surplus oil can be wiped off afterwards and a liquid powder applied or powder cream.

FOR those who wish to lather in the hardest water and is grand for camping holidays.

For car or train travel there are soap cloths which are made of squares of pink mesh impregnated with soap, which acts as a wash-cloth and soap in one. They are packed in an oil-skin bag.

It is also recommended for men whose skins are often as sensitive as women's, especially if they are going a bit bald on top.

The soaps include a special bath-mitt for cruising which will lather in salt water. This is made of Turkish towelling filled with creamed soap and cosmetics that soften as they

Good Cooking

BAKED CUSTARD

By Ambrose Heath

THE great point to remember in cooking baked custards is to see that they cook slowly, or they may get full of little holes, or break, and be watery underneath.

The best custards are made with yolks of egg only (counting two yolks as one whole egg), but variations can be used, the custard being creamier and richer if more yolks than whites are used.

To make a plain baked custard the ingredients are one pint of milk, two large eggs or four yolks (or two yolks and one whole egg), and the sugar and flavouring you need. Beat the eggs together so that they are dissolved in each half-pint of milk. Make and cook as above.

and on to them pour the milk which has been warmed to blood heat, as for a junket.

Butter a fireproof dish and strain the eggs and milk into it. (This straining will get rid of any unpleasant particles.) And altogether. Then proceed as you like. Then bake carefully in a cool oven, putting the dish in a tin so that the bottom does not come into contact with the oven floor. As soon as the custard begins to set, pour some water in the tin. Serve hot or cold.

Coffee Custard

WHEN your custard is prepared and poured into the dish, cover the surface with little ratatou biscuits. Let them soak there for half an hour, and then bake as usual.

Ratatou Custard

Chocolate Custard

NOTE that in making these, you must use three eggs for half a pint of chocolate should be dissolved in each half-pint of milk (or two whole eggs and two yolks), as the custard must be stiff enough to turn out.

500 BLIND MEN IN MARCH ON LONDON

Campaign to Get Pensions: "We Don't Want Charity"

20 MILES-A-DAY TREK

M.P.s BACK PETITION TO GOVERNMENT

FIVE HUNDRED blind men are to march on London as part of a campaign to make the Government take fuller responsibility for the blind in the British Isles.

They will march in contingents of 80, each man holding his neighbour's arm, leaders of sections guided by white sticks, and at the head and tail of this tragic procession will march the few who can see.

"We set out on October 12," said Councillor J. A. Clydesdale, of Newcastle, organiser of the march, "Aberdeen, Glasgow, Leeds, Manchester, and Cardiff have been chosen as our starting points.

"We have had hundreds of blind volunteers from all parts of the country. We insist that all marchers shall be able-bodied men. No women or children are to be allowed.

The men will march 15-20 miles a day. For food we will rely on the kindness and hospitality of friends to the blind in the towns we pass.

"We feel that this march is the only method by which we can draw the Government's attention to the real need of something being done for the blind in this country."

Reform Proposal

Working day and night in a dark London office is the secretary of the National League for the Blind—55-year-old Mr. A. Henderson. His life work has been devoted to the cause of his fellow sufferers.

"The march has no object in view—a definite object," he said. "We want the Government to take something like 75 per cent. of the financial responsibility.

"We have a definite reform which we are putting forward. All grants to the blind, we believe, should be paid through the voucher system—supplied like old-age pensions—through the Post Office.

"At present the unfortunate blind are thrown from the local authorities to the charities and back again. We want State control for the blind—we don't want charity."

UNTRUE ESTIMATE OF DRUG ADDICTS REPORT WITHDRAWN

It is announced that the report of the Opium Section of the League of Nations Secretariat giving an estimate of the number of drug addicts in the United Kingdom has been withdrawn from circulation.

Mr. Geoffrey Lloyd, Parliamentary Secretary to the Home Office, said in reply to a Parliamentary written question that the report included a statement showing how many drug addicts there would be in each of 59 countries on the assumption that the proportion of addicts to population was the same as it was estimated to be in Germany, the United States and Egypt.

On the wholly unfounded assumption it was calculated that the figure for the United Kingdom would be 4,000, 40,000 or 92,000, according as to whether Germany, the United States or Egypt was taken as the basis of computation.

Went Back To The Girl He Loved— AND SHE GAOLED HIM FOR THE REWARD

JOHN CULLEN, a Grimsby fisherman, joined the French Foreign Legion and fell in love with a waitress in a Marseilles cafe.

When he was drafted to Morocco he deserted the Legion and tried to get back to Marseilles to marry his waitress lover, Pipi.

But he was forced to flee to England to elude his French pursuers. That was six years ago. For four years he worked in Grimsby fishing trawlers. But his heart was in Marseilles.

One day a Spanish tramp steamer called at the docks. She was bound for Marseilles. John worked his passage as cook.

At Marseilles he found her at the cafe chatting with two other customers.

KISSES—AND BETRAYAL

She sat on his knee, petted him. Then the two customers returned with two gendarmes.

"This man," said Pipi, "escaped from the Legion six years ago." A reward is offered in France to those who report deserters.

John, dumbfounded, disillusioned was marched off and locked in the dingy cell of a nearby prison.

Recently John Cullen walked into the offices of a London newspaper and told this story.

"I asked to be taken into the yard for exercise. I waited till the guard was turned," he said.

"Then I climbed the wall and escaped 25ft. on the other side. I managed to smuggle my way across France."

To-day he is on his way back to Grimsby, where he hopes to find another job on a trawler.

Moscow Radios War Orders To Spain

FURTHER sensational evidence of the extent to which Soviet Russia is directing the mobs of Communists, armed by the Madrid Government, in the battle against the anti-Reds is forthcoming.

Daily broadcasts are being addressed from Soviet radio stations to the Spanish Reds laying down military tactics, and urging fighting "without mercy." It is significant that the Madrid Government was recently able to announce the opening of a special £1,110,000 anti-revolt credit.

So close is the co-operation between the Madrid Government and Soviet organisations in Spain that since the outbreak of the civil war Russian Bolsheviks have been employed among radio announcers in Madrid and elsewhere.

The Madrid Government is a big consumer of Soviet oil; and it is understood that 26 per cent. of the sales proceeds is retained by Soviet agencies in Spain for the specific purpose of subsidising Soviet propaganda there and providing strike funds.

Meanwhile, in Russia the powerful Moscow Comintern station, working on a wave-length of about 1,700 metres, broadcasts in Spanish every night.

The man in charge of these special broadcasts is Jose Perez, chief of the Spanish section of the Third International. He is assisted by Nitkin, a Russian who has only recently returned from Madrid, where he organised the Communist Defence Corps.

LENIN'S PROPHECY

Broadcasts have been opened by extracts from Lenin's speech at the 1920 Congress of the Third International. Lenin foretold that the second successful proletarian revolution would take place in Spain; that the Spanish army would be on the other side and that the "armed proletariat would have to fight against mercenaries and native African forces."

Throughout the night the Moscow station also gives instructions on street fighting, on barricade fighting, on the organisation of the workers, on revolutionary strategy, and similar subjects.

The pre-arranged scheme entered the transport of the Expeditionary Force, but within six months the 50 special train trains a day had become 140, with 24 daily Channel crossings.

Mr. E. C. Cox, Traffic Manager of the Southern Railway, who retires in October after 53 years' service, revealed this, when he described changes and incidents in his experience to a London newspaper representative.

The pre-arranged scheme entered the transport of the Expeditionary Force, but within six months the 50 special train trains a day had become 140, with 24 daily Channel crossings.

Mr. Cox's experience of war-time transport is probably unique. He joined the South-Eastern Railway in 1883 as a clerk, at the age of 15, and during the South African War became Special Traffic Clerk, responsible for all military movements between London and the ports. In the Great War he held a similar post, and the South-Eastern and Chatham Railway carried 13,000,000 troops across the Channel without a casualty.

WAR STORES IN TUNNELS

Emergencies and alarms during the four years were many. He recalled as the most memorable the landing ship which carried part of the Dover-Folkestone Line 140 feet out to sea. In January, 1915, when it was vitally important, and necessitated a 50 miles diversion to span a broken link of about six miles.

The line was out of use until after the War, but there was some compensation in that two tunnels became available as huge mine stores.

Mr. Cox has organised transport for the Royal Family in four reigns. He is a Commander of the British Empire and a Member of the Royal Victorian Order, and he has received decorations from the French, Belgian and Romanian Governments. He holds the Territorial Decoration and the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel.

Dr. Aras, Foreign Minister, and Lord Stanley on the subject of the cemeteries.

Dr. Aras wrote on July 18: "You mentioned to me the other day that public opinion in your country felt some uneasiness regarding the effect of the conclusion of the Straits Convention upon the position of the military cemeteries on the Gallipoli Peninsula."

Dr. Aras then repeats a "spontaneous declaration" which he made during a private session. Turkey, he says, will fully honour her obligations under the Treaty of Lausanne, notwithstanding any changes which may be brought about in the regime of the Straits by the Convention.

GALLIPOLI WAR GRAVES

TURKISH ASSURANCES

The new Straits Convention will in no way affect the upkeep and supervision of war graves in Gallipoli.

With the text of the Convention signed at Montreux on July 29, which was published as a White Paper recently, appears correspondence between Dr. T. R. Aras, the Turkish Foreign Minister, and Lord Stanley on the subject of the cemeteries.

Dr. Aras wrote on July 18: "You mentioned to me the other day that public opinion in your country felt some uneasiness regarding the effect of the conclusion of the Straits Convention upon the position of the military cemeteries on the Gallipoli Peninsula."

Film Star's Baby May Decide Case

JUDGE ASKS IF SHE PREFERS FATHER OR MOTHER

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.

LITTLE Marylyn, four-year-old daughter of Mary Astor, the film star, may be an unconscious arbiter in the bitter quarrel now raging in the courts here between her parents.

Judge Knight, who has a daughter the same age as Marylyn, visited the child to-day at her mother's beautiful home at Tolosa Lake.

Marylyn knows nothing of the

DIARY STORIES

It is understood that if Marylyn's answers leave the judge in doubt as to whom she should live with, he will permit counsel to introduce into court all the sensational statements, so far contained only in affidavits.

Such a decision would allow Dr. Thorpe's counsel to question the film star about her famous "misstep" which the doctor alleges she kept before her divorce.

Mr. Joseph Anderson, Dr. Thorpe's lawyer, said to-day: "We expect to go very, very thoroughly into the untold story of Miss Astor having custody of the child. We will also go into the charges in her affidavit that she was coerced by threats into permitting Dr. Thorpe to obtain an uncontested divorce with full custody of their daughter."

"We can prove by her own handwriting that this is not the situation at all, but that she willingly abandoned the child for a married man—George Kaufman."

The lawyer did not state who "George Kaufman" was.

AUTHOR'S DENIAL

Mr. George Kaufman, the famous American playwright, said to-day: "I was just a friend of Mary Astor, like many others in Hollywood."

"I have attended several of her parties as a guest and friend. I am most certainly not involved in her difficulties with Dr. Thorpe."

BLESSING THE WATER

The Maharaja's food consists largely of curry and garlic, but butter and milk also form an important part of his diet.

He only drinks water which has been blessed by his priests, who daily perform their rites in the room in his hotel which has been converted into a temple for the golden goddess who accompanies him on all his travels.

It would have been too complicated, for the waiter party representatives to abstain from arranging or attending functions at which Naval or Military forces are in attendance, and that the Conservative Anthem (so called National Anthem) has not been included in proceedings or arrangements made for its inclusion at any function."

SOCIALISTS AND CORONATION

"ABSTAIN" SUGGESTION

Resolutions urging the Socialist party to abstain from any part in the Coronation celebrations next May will be submitted at the Socialist Party Conference at Edinburgh on Oct. 9.

The Upton division will move that Labour party representatives abstain from arranging or attending functions at which Naval or Military forces are in attendance, and that the Conservative

Anthem (so called National Anthem) be not included in proceedings or arrangements made for its inclusion at any function."

New Island Annexed For King Edward VIII.

Sydney (N.S.W.), Aug. 30.

THE first new territory to be added to the British Empire under King Edward, a tiny island in the South Pacific, has been formally annexed by four Sydney men.

The island lies in the four-mile-wide Elizabeth Reef, 500 miles northeast of Sydney, and had never before been charted.

Its discoverers are Messrs. John W. Forsyth, Henry Newton-Scott, Norman K. Willis and Gilbert Whitley.

Collecting specimens for an Australian museum, and recharting the areas under commission, they were cruising in Mr. Willis's 23-ton schooner, Wanderer, to the Middleton and Elizabeth Reefs, 60 to 120 miles north of Lord Howe Island.

GROWING RAPIDLY

When Elizabeth Reef was visited soon after a wreck in 1909, it was only a coral reef which was completely submerged at high tide. Such was its description on the Admiralty chart.

The island, which has formed since, and which is growing rapidly is more than 60 yards in diameter.

The island has been named

Forsyth Island, after Mr. Forsyth, who in a speech when it was annexed,

ST. LOUIS DEFEATS NEW YORK

RIVALS FIGHTING FOR LEADERSHIP

New York, Sept. 2. The Giants may have run their luck to the limit, and St. Louis may be on better ground, for to-day the Cardinals, deposed leaders of the National League, beat the New Yorkers who displaced them, four to three.

The Giants hit eleven times to the Cardinals' nine, but spoiled their advantage by blundering three times in the field, and the St. Louis runners made the most of them and snatched the necessary extra tally.

Chicago scored four runs against a helpless Brooklyn team, which Carleton smothered with fast pitching, though seven men got to first. Dodgers did not score a run.

All other games in the National League were postponed on account of rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

St. Louis Browns scored thirteen runs on sixteen hits when Cliff, Solters and Bell hit homers against Philadelphia, and the Athletics scored eleven times on twelve hits, aided by Hayes' home run. The Athletics had three errors.

Cleveland's nine hits, including a four-bag blow by Averill, scored four runs, enough to beat New York Yankees' three jolts, scored on three hits.

Detroit beat Washington, though the thirteen hits the Tigers collected were only sufficient to bring in three runs to the Senators' two scored on three safeties.

Rain postponed the Chicago-Boston battle.—Reuter.

REBELS CAPTURE KEY POINTS IN IRUN ATTACK

at about 6 p.m., this completing the capture of the Turia Ridge, enabling the insurgents to bring San Marcel under direct artillery fire.

Later, the insurgents launched a violent attack on San Marcel, the skirmishes being met by occasional rifle fire, but from a vantage point on the French frontier it did not appear that the Government troops offered much resistance.

Meanwhile, Foreign Legionnaires advanced on Behobie, the defenders slowly retreating and contesting every yard of the ground. A Government armoured train continued to fire as fast as the guns could be loaded. The insurgent advance guards reached the gates of Behobie at 5.15 p.m., when fighting in the streets began. The Government troops, taking advantage of every scrap of cover, were prepared to fight to the bitter end. It is estimated that thousands of refugees crossed the frontier during the day.

Preparations for a stern fight have been made at Irún, where the defenders have barricaded the main streets and manned strategic positions. The battle will apparently continue, and the bloodshed is likely to be terrible.

It is reported that Moroccan troops are now looting the frontier town of Behobie, where street fighting is in progress. Many Government troops are flying over the French frontier, and are being disarmed by the guards.

ENLISTING FOREIGNERS

Burgos, Sept. 3. Insurgent leaders propose to recruit another battalion of Foreign Legionnaires, which will remain for the duration of the civil war.

At the disbandment of hostilities those who wish to continue in the service will be absorbed into other battalions.

Hitherto, General Mola has opposed calling on the assistance offered by foreigners, but recruiting offices have now been opened at all insurgent centres.

Government forces have been using the services of men of other nations for some time.—Reuter Bulletin Service.

LAST WARNING

Madrid, Sept. 3. The American Charge d'Affaires has received instructions to request all Americans "for the last time" to leave Madrid.

It is officially stated that the United States is considering the withdrawal of warships from Spanish waters.—United Press.

BRIDE WASHED WITH CARBOLIC SOAP

A YOUNG bride who was stripped naked in a Manchester prison and washed with carbolic soap was awarded £4,719 damages at the Lancashire Assizes.

Mrs. Frances Irene Lowick, who is 21, won her action for false imprisonment and malicious prosecution against Philip Lazarus and his son, Adolf, calcot printers of Manchester.

Mr. Lazarus, junior, is a Manchester manufacturer.

Mrs. Lowick was a secretarial assistant and typist at the firm, and left to get married.

CELL PLANK BED

A farcical case was argued on a charge of conspiracy and falsification in the court of justice and taken to a cell plank of plastic sheet and only one blanket.

Next morning she was found stripped naked and washed with carbolic soap.

When brought up in Court, she was found not guilty.—Reuter.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE MARKET IRREGULAR YESTERDAY

New York, Sept. 2. Swan, Culbertson & Fritz Dow Jones' summary of yesterday's market:—Prices to-day advanced on favourable business reports. Steels and rails were featured in the early rise and the tickler for the first hour of business was one minute behind, after which the market became more orderly. Prices were well maintained despite some profit-taking and other groups joined the rally, trading increasing on advance-mail orders. Motors and amusements both advanced, while utilities also swung into action late in the session, with Consolidated Edison leading the upward trend. Farm implements rose, while copper gained slightly. Oil shares responded only marginally to the improved statistics in the oil industry. The bonds market was higher, while stocks on the curb exchange were also higher.

S. C. & F. New York office cables:—Stocks: The market to-day reflected certain amount of profit-taking, but traders are bullish on after-holiday prospects. The price of Pittsburgh steel scrap advanced by $1 per ton to the highest level since September of 1920.

Cotton: The "Journal of Commerce" estimate of 10,000,000 bales is bullish and has encouraged anticipation of a lower Government estimate on September 4th, but the export outlook is uncertain. Brazilian cotton is underselling the American varieties and impending leading curtailed outside buying. Six leading experts on the cotton market are bullish, while one is bearish.

Wheat: Stocks are reported to be sold out, but buying is slack and the Minneapolis mill and elevator strike will be a possible factor.

Corn: Heavy rains are improving pasture conditions throughout the country and this, in turn, is reducing the prospects for feed demand.

Rubber: A good "spot" demand is reported. The market for futures is quiet and steady. Malayan exports for August totalled 43,500 tons.

S. C. & F. Wall Street Journal morning comment:—"The third quarter of the current year will be the best financial quarter in the Power Industry since 1930. Brokers say that there is greater interest in certain motor-accessory issues. Movie shares are discounting the expected Autumn attendance increases. Brokers are of the opinion that merchandising shares will be more popular during September. Some professional traders are buying Montgomery, Ward issues."

SHOEMAKERS ROB
MASTER
SYSTEMATIC THEFT OF SHOES

Three charges of larceny by servant were admitted by two shoemakers, Tse Wai, aged 19, and Tse Wo, aged 19, when they were brought before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. The charges alleged that they stole a pair of brown leather shoes on July 7, from No. 191 Shanghai Street, the property of their master, Tse Wan, aged 45, shopkeeper; larceny of one pair of black shoes on July 19; and larceny of one pair of brown leather shoes on September 2.

Detective-Sergeant J. Headridge stated that about 1.30 p.m. yesterday, a district watchman stopped first defendant in Reclamation Street carrying a parcel. The district watchman opened the parcel and found it to contain a pair of shoes. Defendant then admitted stealing them and was taken back to Yau Ma Tei Police Station. There first defendant admitted stealing three pairs of shoes and said he was assisted by second defendant, who was later arrested.

Both defendants, added the officer, admitted stealing 14 or 15 pairs of shoes, but these could not be traced. The shoes were valued at $7 a pair. Defendants' wages were $4 a month, plus board and lodging.

The Magistrate said that though neither defendants had records against them, he could not take a lenient view of the offence. He regarded larceny by servant as a serious matter, and the larcenies also appeared to have been committed systematically.

Both defendants were sentenced to three weeks' hard labour on each charge, the terms to run consecutively, making a total of nine weeks' hard labour.

F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning.

The body of a man surnamed Kwok, aged about 24 years, was removed to the Victoria Mortuary yesterday. It was found in the backyard of 170 Queen's Road East. It is believed that the man fell from the roof of a block of flats in Queen's Road East, when he was chased during a police raid.

Sentence of two months' hard labour was passed by Mr. W. Schofield, at the Central Magistracy this morning, on Chong Kam-man, 20, unemployed, charged with the theft of house fittings from No. 2 Tai Kok Terrace. The complainant was Mr. Sykes, time-keeper, Inspector O'Conor said defendant was arrested carrying a parcel containing the stolen articles, which were valued at $10. Defendant had apparently gained admittance into the house, which was vacant, by means of an open door, which had been broken during the typhoon, and had stolen the fittings from the doors and windows.

TABLES TURNED
INDIAN CONSTABLE CHARGED

There was an unexpected turn to a case which came before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning, when a ginger hawkman, Tse Wai, aged 19, and Tse Wo, aged 19, when they were brought before Mr. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. The charges alleged that they stole a pair of brown leather shoes on July 7, from No. 191 Shanghai Street, the property of their master, Tse Wan, aged 45, shopkeeper; larceny of one pair of black shoes on July 19; and larceny of one pair of brown leather shoes on September 2.

At yesterday's hearing, the hawkman pleaded not guilty to the charges preferred against him, saying he was not hawkling but delivering goods, and that he had refused to go to the station because the Indian constable was assaulting him with fists and truncheon. He showed marks on his body to verify his statements. He also added that the constable had drawn his revolver when he proved stubborn. The constable, on the other hand, said he had arrested defendant in Elgin Street and not in a flat there. He had not struck defendant, but defendant and his wife had pushed him and torn his shirt, and consequently he had to use force to arrest him. He also alleged that defendant had taken away his police whistle.

Defendant was given a twenty-four hours remand to search for witnesses, and at to-day's hearing two Chinese boys who had no connection with the defendant said they were on the scene when the hawkman was arrested on the second floor of No. 13 Elgin Street. They saw the constable going after defendant and accusing him of hawkling. They stood on the stairway and witnessed the constable striking defendant with his fists and truncheon.

Both defendants were sentenced to three weeks' hard labour on each charge, the terms to run consecutively, making a total of nine weeks' hard labour.

CLOSE SEASON FOR WHALES
WHY BRITAIN TOOK ACTION

London, Sept. 1. Before the British Government took the step announced last night, of withdrawal of the regulation imposing a close season on British whaling ships, it waited proposals for the settlement of the whaling dispute which the Norwegian Charge d'Affaires in London presented yesterday.

As these proposals did not contain either any mention of the removal of the boycott imposed by the Norwegian Seamen's Union, or any suggestions which might have formed the basis of an immediate settlement, the Government had no option but to proceed with the issue of new regulations. It is understood, nevertheless, that the new Norwegian proposals are receiving careful consideration in London, since, though not immediately acceptable, they are thought to contain suggestions worthy of study.—British Wireless.

TUBERCULOSIS AND POVERTY

One of Hongkong's biggest and most difficult health problems was raised at Tuesday's meeting of the Urban Council, when a series of questions was asked regarding measures to combat tuberculosis. Week after week, the health returns show a death-roll of fifty or sixty from this disease; in other words, some 2,800 people die in Hongkong yearly from this scourge. But that is by no means the whole story, for not all the cases are notified; besides which, it is a common custom for people in the last stages of the disease to leave the Colony and die in their own country. There is, as the Government spokesman stated on Tuesday, no sanatorium in the Colony for the treatment of the disease: all that is done is to give palliative treatment in the hospitals. The problem is, as we say, one of extraordinary difficulty, and it exists mainly by reason of poverty, which in turn causes overcrowding, a potent factor both in the contraction and spread of the disease. There can be no question of the need of large-scale slum clearance in the Colony, for both in the city and on the mainland there are human rabbit-warrens the existence of which ought not to be tolerated. In England, the Government has embarked on a huge scheme for demolition of uninhabitable property, using its compulsory powers to the fullest limit possible. There is equal need for drastic action in Hongkong, and it is to be hoped that the Housing Commission will not hesitate to recommend strong measures with this end in view. The imminence of the problem is attested by the fact that the Commission, although appointed many months ago, has not yet got beyond the preliminary stage of inquiry. One of the most serious issues involved in any big scheme of slum clearance will be the finding of suitable alternative accommodation, at a rental within the capacity of the people displaced. In this connection, it is illuminating to bear in mind that in the cases dealt with by the Society for the Protection of Children, the average income per head per month is substantial

MUSSOLINI HASN'T WON YET

By
Sir John Harris

ABYSSINIA: Price
£5,000,000 a Month

Abyssinia is to be at once the land flowing with milk and honey, of gold and silver, precious stones and metals, gushing oil geysers, thriving homes for happy Italian families, and apparently all to be had for the asking!

The Italian monarch has been crowned Emperor of Abyssinia. The Mussolini family have received a lavish share of honours. The shoutings of the captains and of the people have awakened mixed echoes at home and abroad.

BUT whatever the people have been led to believe there is now good reason for saying that the Italian Government is awakening to some very unpalatable truths about the Abyssinian venture.

Apart from driblets, the armies are not marching home; true they have done no fighting, having left that nasty little job to mercenary native troops, with the result that the Italian casualties have been few, but where are the "200,000 sons" of Italy?

THEY appear to be stuck in the swamps and mud of Abyssinia waiting for that distant day when they will be able to take up the unfinished task of conquest and occupation.

There are vast spaces in this country nearly twice as large as France which never have seen and probably never may see, an Italian!

Then there is an Ethiopian Government "in being" somewhere—and for what it is worth there is that embarrassing Ethiopian tradition which every child is taught from the cradle of how Lebna Dengel when cost not less than £10 millions ruler of Abyssinia was driven utterly broken and ruined into the mountains of the West to but, alas, the war is still far await the day when he could

The American money market is already barred to Italy by the Johnson Act, and Italy is thus placed in the predicament of having the world money market closed for any further expenditure.

As unemployment—apart from war employment—mounts higher so do the costs of war. Italian apologists are fond of telling the world that the war has been a cheap one because fewer than 2,500 Italians lost their lives; that may be so, but the financial cost has been so embarrassing that it has never been disclosed to the public, probably because the bills have not been paid!

It has been estimated that it cost not less than £10 millions to bring the army of Abyssinia to Addis Ababa a month; the Italian Exchequer may somehow have met this.

The mountains of the West to but, alas, the war is still far await the day when he could

Lifting Of League Sanctions Has Not Ended Italy's Troubles: Fight For Old Markets

HARDEST BATTLE IS ON THE ECONOMIC FRONT

WHILE ITALY MADE WAR WITH
ABYSSINIA OTHER NATIONS
ENTRENCHED THEMSELVES
IN HONGKONG, ELSEWHERE

"Telegraph" Staff Reporter

THE WAR IS OVER IN ABYSSINIA. THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS LIFTED ECONOMIC SANCTIONS AGAINST ITALY. BUT—

Hongkong so far has not exported one single item to Italy.

Italy's export trade to the Far East has received such a setback that it may take years to recover.

Twelve months ago, this tiny British Colony purchased 1,200 per cent. more goods from Italy than we exported to her. We were one of Italy's best customers in this respect, for we have had to pay in bullion for our deficiency in exports.

In July last year our imports from Italy exceeded $255,000. In July this year, a month after sanctions were lifted, they were only $30,643, according to statistics just issued by the Statistical Office of the Imports and Exports Department.

For two months—May and June—our trade with Italy dropped to nothing. For the whole of 1935 it totalled $2,032,111, of which $1,991,836 was imports into Hongkong.

There are hundreds of Colonies, Dependencies and countries as small as Hongkong. Italy is desperately seeking to regain her staggering loss of trade in all of them. What is happening in Hongkong is happening all over the world.

While Italy was fighting her costly campaign in Abyssinia, other countries were stepping in and grabbing her trade. She must now fight an even more desperate battle on her economic front to regain the position she has lost.

Once upon a time we purchased all manner of goods from Italy. Take, for instance, the statistics for March last year, which were selected at random. In that month, our purchases from Italy were:

Buildings' Materials . . . . .	$ 11,719
Chemicals and Drugs . . . . .	2,975
Dyeing, Tanning Materials . . . . .	1,050
Foodstuffs and Provisions . . . . .	1,845
Liquors . . . . .	1,310
Metals . . . . .	117
Paper-and-Paperware . . . . .	6,000
Piece Goods, Textiles . . . . .	222,081
Wearing Apparel . . . . .	1,887
Sundries . . . . .	5,994
Total . . . . .	$255,000

In May and June our imports from Italy were nil. In July our imports were Paper-and-Paperware to the value of $17,701; Piece Goods and Textiles to the value of $6,000; and Sundries valued at $6,042, making a total of $30,643.

Norway has stepped in and taken Italy's market for Building Materials. In March, 1935 our purchases from Norway were nil, while our purchases from Italy amounted to $11,719. In July this year, Norway sold us $31,175 worth and Italy nil.

JAPAN STEPS IN

Nearly all our Acetic Acid once came from Italy. To-day it comes from Germany which supplied $4,840 worth in July.

Italy was also one of our bigger suppliers of Dyeing and Tanning Materials. Now Japan looks after this trade, her exports to Hongkong leaping up from $685 in March, 1935, to $2,529 in July this year.

Dilettanti in canned goods, an Italian trade valued at almost $1,000 a month last year, now come from Canada and France.

Italian cheeses are now replaced by Dutch, Swiss, English and Australian, these four nations apparently equally sharing a market that was once worth $700 a month to Italy.

British sausage makers now replace the famous Italian makes. In March, 1935, Britain supplied us with only $152 worth of sausages. In July British exports to Hongkong amounted to $1,237.

Italian vermouths, wines and spirits have been replaced by other Continental brands. Six nations now share this market, which, however, should not be hard to recapture.

BRITAIN, JAPAN SHARE

It is when we come to Piece Goods and Textiles that we really find how terrific has been the drop in Italy's market.

Great Britain and Japan now exclusively share Italy's portion of the Poplin market. All our Umbrella Cloths last July came from Germany, while Japan completely stole Italy's market for Wool Blankets.

In March last year, Italy supplied Hongkong with Artificial Silk Yarns to the value of $149,033. By June this year this market had become an exclusive one for Japan. Even in July, a month after sanctions had ended, Italy had succeeded in regaining only $6,000 worth.

The sale of hats and caps, which was equally shared by the United Kingdom and Italy last year, is now shared by Britain and Japan, with several other nations supplying small

Give The Kiddies A Break—

MOTHERS ASK ZBW IN RADIO VOTE

MANY ladies who entered the recent Popular Radio Item contest sponsored by the "Telegraph" sent in accompanying letters with their entries, pleading with the local authorities to put on better and brighter programmes for the children.

Some of these letters from parents have already been published. Here are some extracts from others:

"L.F.T."—Many children tell me they do not like the voices of the present "Aunts" and "Uncles". They use words that many adults, let alone kiddies, do not understand.

Why not open up the studios to Hongkong's kiddies, allowing them to give their own songs during the Children's Hour?

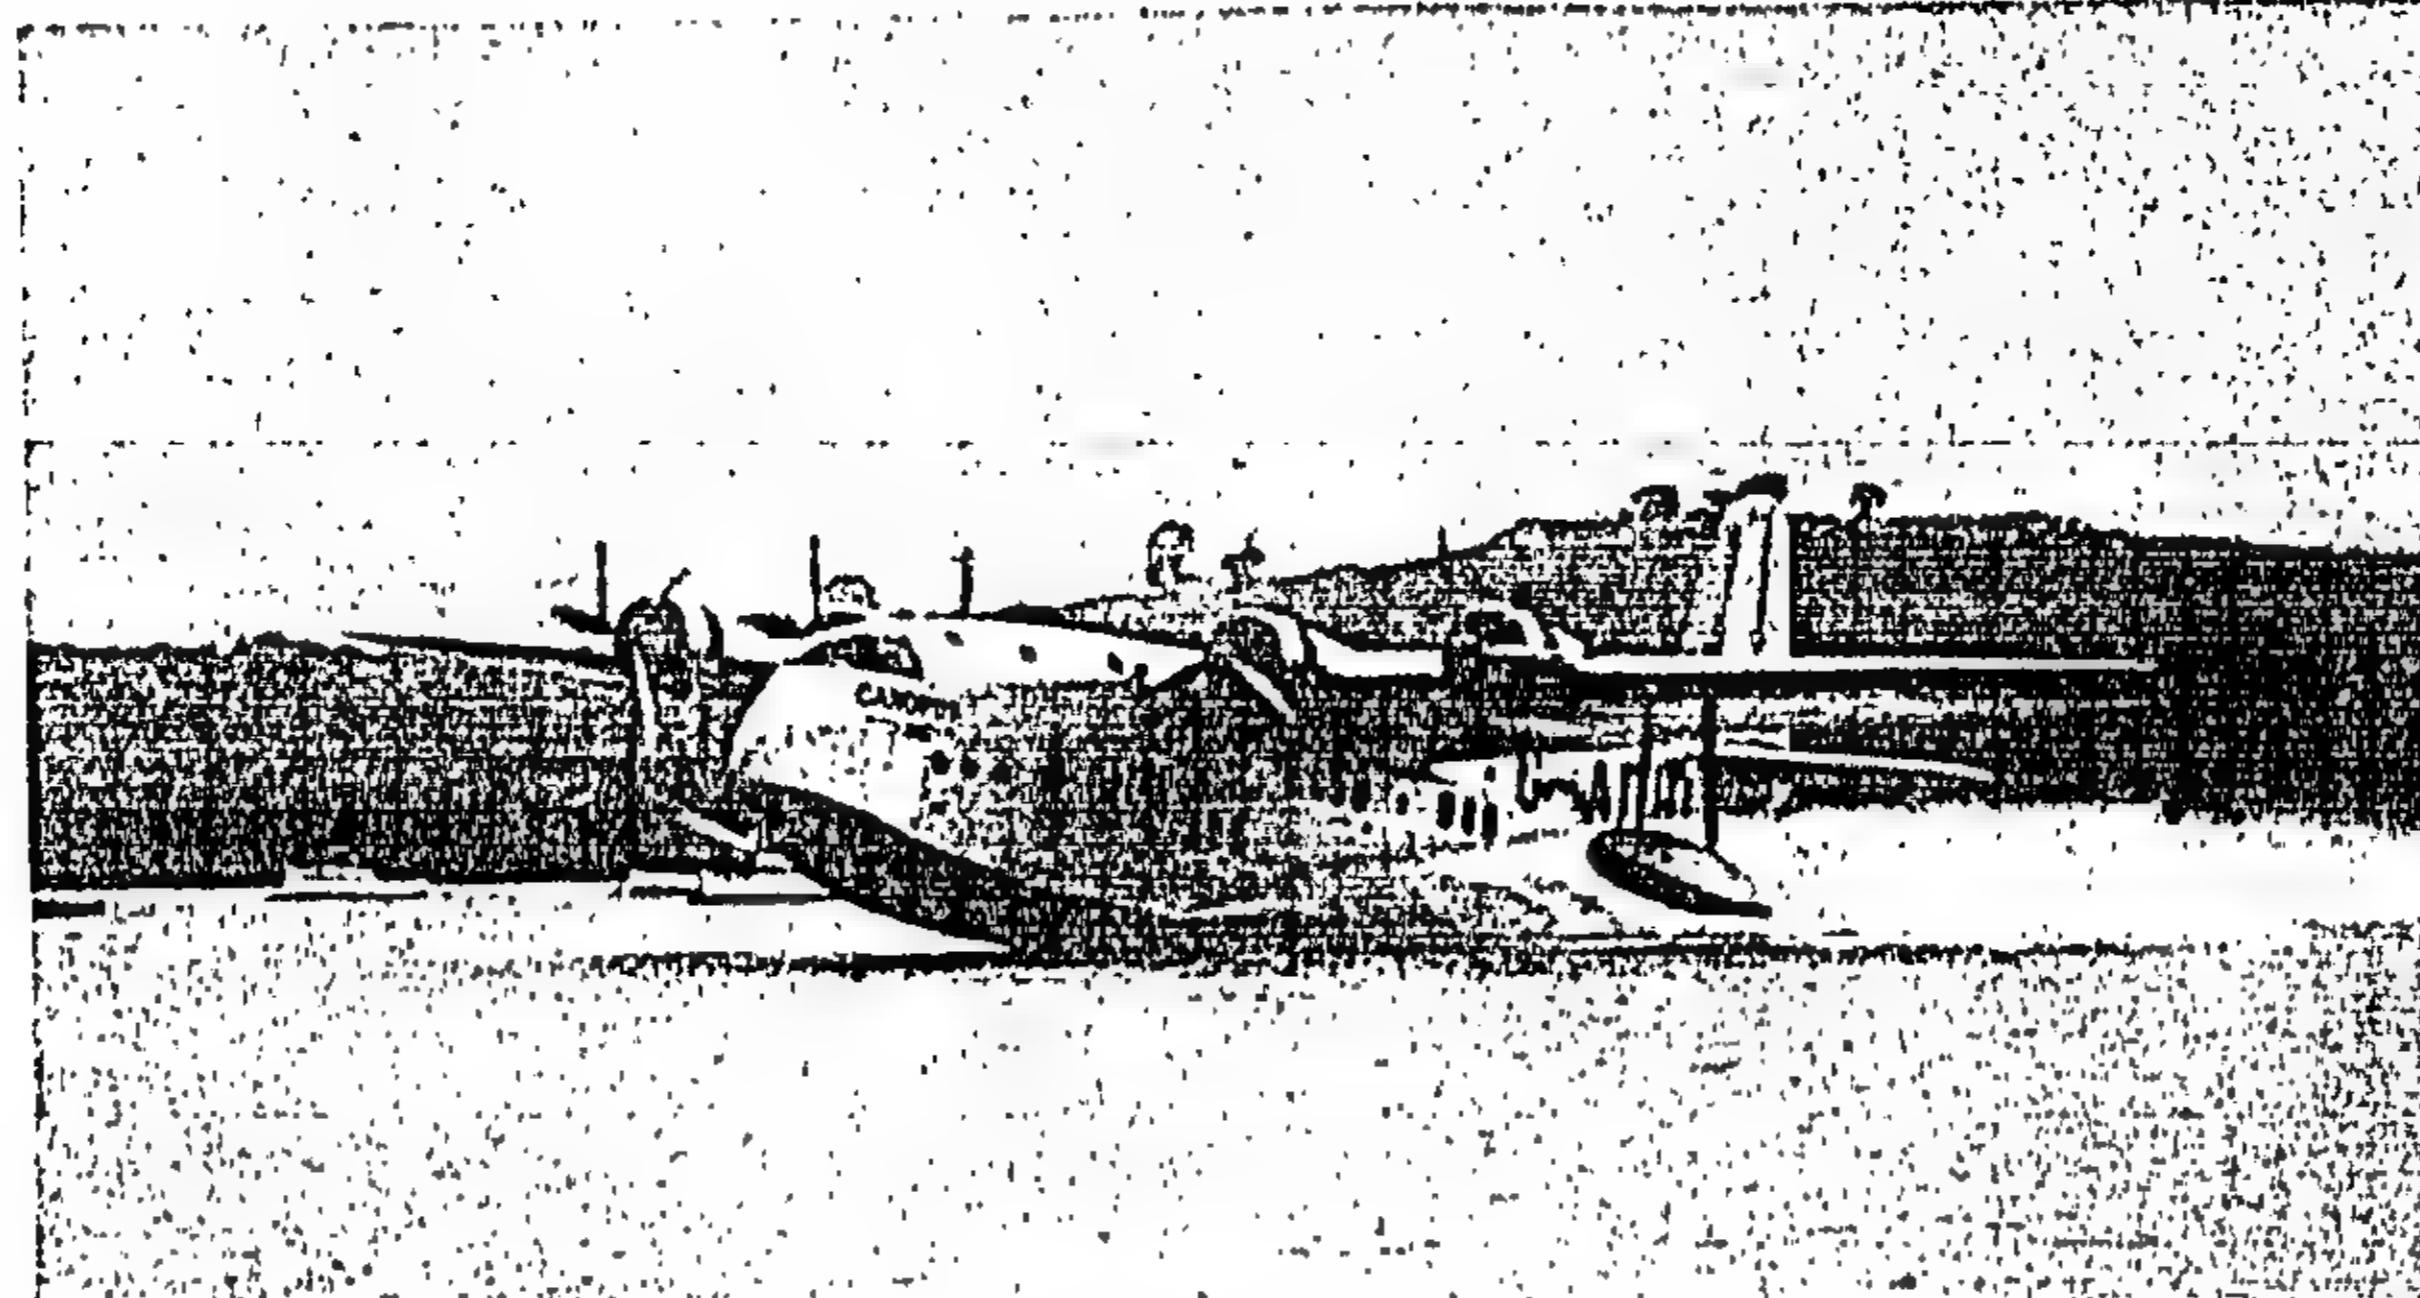

"W.K."—I suggest that the Children's Hour could be brightened and made more interesting by affording local school children the opportunity of appearing before the microphone.

Having had personal experience in the studio of the former XCB, in Shanghai, of this form of entertainment, I noted it to be an item keenly enjoyed by both children and elders.

"A.C."—The Children's Hour is most terrible. Give the kiddies a real break, and let them have good short stories, songs and, most of all, kiddies amateur hours. Surely we might be able to find a "Shirley Temple" in Hongkong?

"A Miracle Man", Says "Time" Of Former Hongkong Man

AMERICAN NEWS— MAGAZINE ON DR. ALEX. CANNON

"A Miracle Man" is the heading "Time", well-known American news-magazine, gives an article in a recent issue on Dr. Alexander Cannon, formerly of Hongkong.

The article says:

"Disease can be diagnosed by its colour, every ailment having a different colour."

"A steady green light and green paper on walls should be in the bedrooms of young male children as this colour relieves the male sex urge to a higher level."

"It should be borne in mind that the high vibrations of red transmitted-light will, if played upon the eyes for 1½ half an hour, remove the symptoms of influenza."

"I am a man acquainted with miracles."

Such affirmations as these, if made by one of Southern California's obscure wizards, might pass with scant attention. But they are the statements of Dr. Alexander Cannon, one of the most extraordinary figures in British science.

Bald, round-faced Dr. Cannon is co-author of respectable treatises on psychiatry and neurology, an active staff member of the London County Mental Hospital Service. A member in good standing of the British Medical Association, he was on Executive Council in 1934-35.

Nevertheless he has delved so deeply into Oriental mysticism that he has been elevated to the rank of Master—the Fifth of the Great White Lodge of the Himalayas, which he considers to be a survival of a great university in Atlantis, "sunk by the selfish powers of mankind about the year 25,660 B.C."

He believes that man has not only an astral body which leaves the corporeal shell in sleep or death but an etheric body even more refined than the astral.

He has composed a kind of "music" which consists of combinations of colours.

He once offered to do the Hindoo trick in London's Albert Hall for $50,000. He has invented a thought-reading machine called a psychoskopikotograph, manometer, which he intends to demonstrate in the U.S. this year.

He believes Armageddon may come in 1937. Like many another prominent mystic, he has no sense of humour.

Dr. Cannon relates wonders in the East which make the notorious rope trick (an illusion, according to him, produced by mass hypnosis) seem like small potatoes. Examples:

A lamp of the Kum-Bum Monastery vanished into thin air.

A fig tree withered when a yogi pointed his finger at it.

Three men made an appearance before the monastery's Grand Lama, although they were actually dead.

Here are some extracts from other letters:

"L.F.T."—Many children tell me they do not like the voices of the present "Aunts" and "Uncles". They use words that many adults, let alone kiddies, do not understand.

Why not open up the studios to might be able to find a "Shirley Temple" in Hongkong?

"E.M."—I think a "Children's Hour" on Sunday evenings would be reversed.

appreciated both by children and adults. This could be composed of nursery rhymes, etc.

"Mrs. B.H."—Give the kiddies

Children's Hours twice a week. Instead of once.

"A.F.R."—Why not select Sundays as the day for the children. The most suitable time for Hongkong kiddies would be the hour after the church services relays.

"Mrs. M.K.V."—I think the kiddies should be given more than one day a week for their programmes.

"Mrs. M.A.B."—I am the mother of three children who love listening, and I would suggest that the kiddies be given programmes more often.

R. Abbit Discusses The Interport And Selects His Team For Shanghai

HAYWARD AS CAPTAIN Colony Bound To Be Up Against It

(By R. Abbit)

To write about Hongkong Cricket in the first few days of September produces a curious feeling—rather like the one you get when the boy has called you an hour too early. However, the new arrangement of dates for the Shanghai match renders this inevitable. As to the expediency of this new arrangement I shall have more to say later on.

At the present I am concerned I will not say with facts, but with probabilities. I gather there is rather a desire to play the Interport game in Shanghai at such a time that advantage can be taken of the double tenth holiday. I may be wrong, but I believe this to be the case. This then may interfere with the provisional date of slogging, October 2, as it would mean rather a long gap before the Interport, and rather a long stay in Shanghai. But of course the whole business is rather dependent on the possibilities of booking conveniently. In these days the utmost economy must be observed. However be that as it may, I understand that nets will go up on the 6th, (Monday, the 7th, is a holiday) on the HKCC ground for those whose names have been sent in by their Clubs.

There is a certain amount of doubt as to what names actually are in but I will set down all the names that have been mentioned grouping them in their Clubs. The K.C.C. have sent in E. Finch, N. A. E. Mackay, W. C. Hung and Robert Lee; Chinglongwee, A. T. Lee, E. Zimmern and F. R. Zimmerman; The I.R.C. Perleira, Minu, A. H. Madar and K. Nazarin; E. L. Gozano alone comes from the University, while Col. Kirke, C. C. Garthwaite, J. P. Williams, D. Pritchard and Captain Persse represent the Army. The Civil Service have put in W. H. Colledge's name—E. Richardson's name was mentioned but it has not reached the Club authorities, and I now learn that he definitely cannot go. He has in fact just returned from short leave. Of the Club, H. Owen Hughes is definitely unable to go, while Duckitt is in Singapore. T. A. Pearce and L. D. Kilhee are probably available, while A. W. Hayward is doubtful, or so I believe.

UPSETS

Of course it is more than probable that some of those chosen may at the last minute find themselves unable to go. But putting this aside and considering the names all together, I am inclined to think that pretty fair side can be got together. In picking the side I should like to see go, I started by setting down the names of the men who could fairly be expected to be included as bowlers and in another column those of the batsmen. I then picked the three men whose names appeared in each column—to wit, T. A. Pearce, C. C. Garthwaite and E. L. Gosoano. To build up the bowling we want two more at least and obviously the men are Persse and Minu—if they are fit. That makes five. The wicket keeper would presumably be Mackay. I doubt if he is quite as good behind the stumps as Colledge but he is a much more dangerous bat on last season's form.

THE BATTING

This leaves five places for batsmen, who by the way must be able to stand up to a long day in the field and a three days' match. The first two names which occur to me are those of A. H. Madar and Captain D. W. Persse, and they have the added value of being able to send down an over or two in an emergency. J. P. Williams as an opening batsman would undoubtedly be my choice, and that leaves me two places, one of which must be for the Captain. I am, by the way, assuming that T. A. Pearce does not want to captain the side. He has had more experience of big cricket than anyone so far mentioned, but I have an idea rightly or wrongly, that he is not very keen on being captain. It is purely a guess of my own. If it is wrong I should make Pearce captain and fill the last two places—and twelfth man—on form displayed in the trials. But if another captain is to be found A. W. Hayward, if available, is the man for the job. Falling him, I would put in E. R. Mitchell who has personality and luck. But of course this would depend largely on whether he can find some form after a season out of cricket owing to his big operation.

THE LAST PLACE

I will assume however that Hayward is going and that leaves the last place and a twelfth man. I am somewhat doubtful if Colonel Kilke likes a three day match. He has been a very fine batsman indeed, and is still quite capable of taking fifty or sixty off the best bowling in the Colony, but I cannot recall that he

A Farewell to Tournament Tennis

It's a case of net loss—design's gain with Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, "Queen Helen" of tennis. She announced in San Francisco that she would not play in the national matches at Forest Hills nor would she devote the time she has in the past to tennis, playing only occasionally "for fun." And here she is at her designing table, which work is taking her away from the sport she loves.

MY TEAM

The team then that I would choose is as follows, taken in the order of batting:

A. W. Hayward (captain)
J. P. Williams
T. A. Pearce
A. H. Madar
E. L. Gosoano
N. A. E. Mackay
Capt. D. W. Persse
C. C. Garthwaite
D. M. Pritchard
A. R. Minu
F. D. Kilhee

There is one obvious criticism to be made, and that is the low position in which I have put Garthwaite. But the men above him are all forcing batsmen. Gosoano and Persse anyway are and Mackay played some very fine attacking innings last Season. But there is always a chance of a bit of this type being out early on, and I have seen Garthwaite play so many excellent knocks and appear capable of staying there all day, so long as he does not worry about going for the runs that I have put him low down to hold the fort if necessary or to stop with someone who gets going whether it be the men higher in the order or our two sluggers at the end.

CRITICISMS, PLEASE!

Having suitably reduced my readers to fury in many ways by bluntly putting forward my own ideas, they can now derive (I hope) much pleasure from showing their friends exactly what sort of a mug I am. There is one obvious criticism to make and that is that I have omitted E. F. Finch. I think I may very likely be wrong in so doing and perhaps I should have put him in place of Pritchard. My reasons for not doing so are that E. F. does not bowl—in an Interport anyway—whereas Pritchard gives us a slow right-hand spinner. Finch is a much more brilliant bat but he is apt to be out before he gets going. At the same time there is no denying that he is a magnificent fielder.

ABSENTEES

Thinking things over, it strikes me that the only two men in the Colony who cannot go, but who would otherwise walk into the side are H. Owen Hughes and E. Finch. Their absence will be a great blow to the strength of the team as, apart from their batting, they are probably the finest first and second slips in the Colony. It is quite possible that I have overlooked others but at the moment of writing they seem the only outstanding cases, except perhaps Richardson. F. C. Goodwin has not, I think, in his name, or, of course, would be well in the running.

SHANGHAI

It is too early yet to say much about the Shanghai side. There are rumours that Donald Leach will be back after all, but in view of the fact that A. J. Barson has been chosen captain, I think it is very unlikely. Barson is a cricketer of whom we have never seen the best down here, but the Shanghai critics have a very high opinion of him. The other two men (of whom I can speak from personal knowledge) who are likely to prove very dangerous are Stokes and Booth. Ianes, I regret to hear has had to give up the game at present owing to eye trouble. But there is no doubt that Shanghai will have a pretty hot team out to play us and we shall need all the practice we can get, and this very particularly includes fielding practice.

There is no doubt that the date chosen is far less satisfactory to Hongkong than the old one in May. Apart from the question of heat, our weather makes it very doubtful whether our men will be able to get enough wickets which can be played on for proper practice in September. But I gather that there are equally cogent reasons from Shanghai's point of view against the May fixture and we must of course give their scheme a good try out.

HOME TEAMS SWEEP THE BOARD*New Soccer Results

London, Sept. 2. Home teams swept the board in to-day's First League football matches. Chelsea pleased the Stamford Bridge crowd with an odd goal win over Grimsby, while Sunderland, the champions, scrambled home to a win at Roker Park against Derby County.

Actually out of the 20 matches played there was only one away winner. Notts County earned this distinction at Selhurst Park. Aston Villa had to rest content with a goal apiece draw against Notts Forest. Results as cables by Reuter follow.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE BEATS IRISH LEAGUE

Glasgow, Sept. 2. A crowd of 25,000 people saw the Scottish Football League defeat the Irish League by 5 goals to 2 at Hampden Park to-day.

The Scottish forwards showed delightful combination and ever-ready Irish defence in the first half. However, they were inclined to be over-artistic. Scotland led 4-1 at the interval, after which they rested on their laurels and the Irish attacked desperately. Reuter,

Clubhouse Chatter*17 Year-Old Fight Promoter is in Hongkong*PAUL KONG OF MANILA COMES HERE WITH SOME IDEAS

By "Veritas"

THERE came amongst us in Hongkong yesterday, by the grace of fair wind and weather, the Empress of Asia and a few other equally important factors, a young man, who, I think you will agree when you have heard his biography, deserves to be known as the "Jeff Dickson of the Far East." He is a young gentleman, aged 17. His name is Paul Bautista Kong. He hails from Manila, and here are a few of the things he has accomplished in the capital of the Philippine Islands. For three years he has promoted boxing, baseball and basketball; has been fight manager; crooned at regular intervals over the KZRM and KZIB radio stations. In between times he has been studying the Three R's and some other academic matters at various schools and colleges.

sufficient time in which to develop the game to a higher standard than is. In fact, Mr. Devlin had come to Hongkong and learnt that our badminton had developed from an embryo state to its present standard within two years, he would readily have admitted that it was distinctly creditable. Only, Mr. Devlin's experience in Malaya should be noted, and should act as a warning to Hongkong not to shoot too high in the way of competing with first-grade teams from Singapore. If an Interport comes about this winter we don't want it to be fished from the playing viewpoint, and I fear it would be if Singapore sent up players of the Leow Kim-fatt calibre.

Perry's Stern Task

QUOTE Gordon Lum in a Shanghai Interview last week: "And let me tell you Fred Perry can give 15 to any other man at Wimbledon . . ." To which observation, with qualification, many will agree. The qualification is "when he is playing on top form." But can Perry give 15 to any other man outside of Wimbledon? For example at Forest Hills? Here I feel the answer must be a decided negative, which is why we shall watch with interest, as from to-day, the fortunes of that young Englishman in his attempt to win the United States singles championship for the third time. Not a few will be prepared to back Perry for any amount of money to accomplish thefeat. Certainly his record for the last three years at Forest Hills is sufficient to invite plenty of confidence. Perry won the title in 1933 and again in 1934. Last year he reached the final only to lose to Wilmer Allison after he had injured his back. Now he is completely fit again and has the Wimbledon title again and the Wimbledon title again in his pocket and a great big Davis Cup achievement to give him moral encouragement. The odds are certainly in his favour.

STRATHROY IN FINE CONDITION

Although there is still ample time before the racing season resumes on September 26, many ponies were seen in action at the Happy Valley course yesterday morning, when a number of old-timers were put to galloping in slow time. Favourites such as Mistake Bay, Oak Bay, Rose Queen, Ribble, King's Jubilee, Sadko and Strathroy were among those exercising.

Strathroy, which was responsible for a number of wins early this season, should be seen to better advantage on its present fine form.

strange conditions, and, this may easily prevent him from being at his best. But Budge at Forest Hills is more likely to be twice as dangerous as Budge at Wimbledon, or Eastbourne, or Paris; and it's worth bearing in mind that he beat both Austin and Perry at Eastbourne a week after entering the semi-finals at Wimbledon. If Perry does survive and wins this championship, it will be a performance equally creditable to that of Wimbledon for he has many more varied obstacles to overcome at Forest Hills, not the least being the court surfaces.

Why These Tee-Driving Mats At D. W. Bay?

DEEP Water Bay golf course has enjoyed great popularity this summer. Players who would not care to face the ordeal of a round at Franklin in the hot weather find it just suits them, added to which, of course, is the additional attraction of a week-end. In particular, the course has been greatly patronised, so much so that there is sometimes a waiting list of as many as twenty couples! For the player used to a big course, Deep Water Bay has its drawbacks, but

BISHOP HALL BEREAVED MOTHER PASSES AWAY

Cabled intimation of the death of Bishop R. O. Hall's mother in England has been received by the Rev. H. W. Barnes.

The cable states that the deceased lady passed away peacefully on Tuesday, after having been taken ill on August 25, the 60th anniversary of her birth. Bishop Hall is at present on leave in England, and his many friends in the Colony will deeply sympathise with him in the heavy bereavement which he has suffered.

KING EDWARD IN GREECE

WARM WELCOME AT LITTLE TOWN

London, Sept. 2. An Athens message reports that the yacht Nahlin, in which the King is cruising, arrived at the Island of Skiathos this morning, and the King visited the monument to the Greek revolution and poet, Papadimundi. His Majesty was accorded a warm welcome by the little market town being gallantly besieged.

Later the Nahlin left for Skopje, where Rupert is buried, and the Dardanelles.—British Wireless.

Rome, Sept. 2. Increases in wages, ranging from seven to ten per cent., affecting 80,000 workers, have been announced by a number of industries.

The increases are the outcome of the rise in the cost of living since the beginning of the war in Ethiopia.—Reuter Special.

The fifth round saw more fighting and less clinching, Creighton making several attempts to land a blow on Chong's jaw. Even Creighton smiled, however, when a particularly hard upper cut to the jaw missed completely and lost itself in the air somewhere above the Korean's head.

Although in the seventh round, Chong, appeared to be tiring somewhat, Creighton was still full of energy and all over his opponent, who tried to take refuge in clinches.

Jock Creighton Retains His China Title KOREAN FAILS TO LAST COURSE

Shanghai, Sept. 1. Although the Korean fighter lived up to his reputation of a hard hitter during the early rounds of the fight, Chong Tho On was unable to stand up to the even harder punches of Jock Creighton at the Xengping Road Pavilion last night, and his seconds threw in the towel at the end of the seventh round.

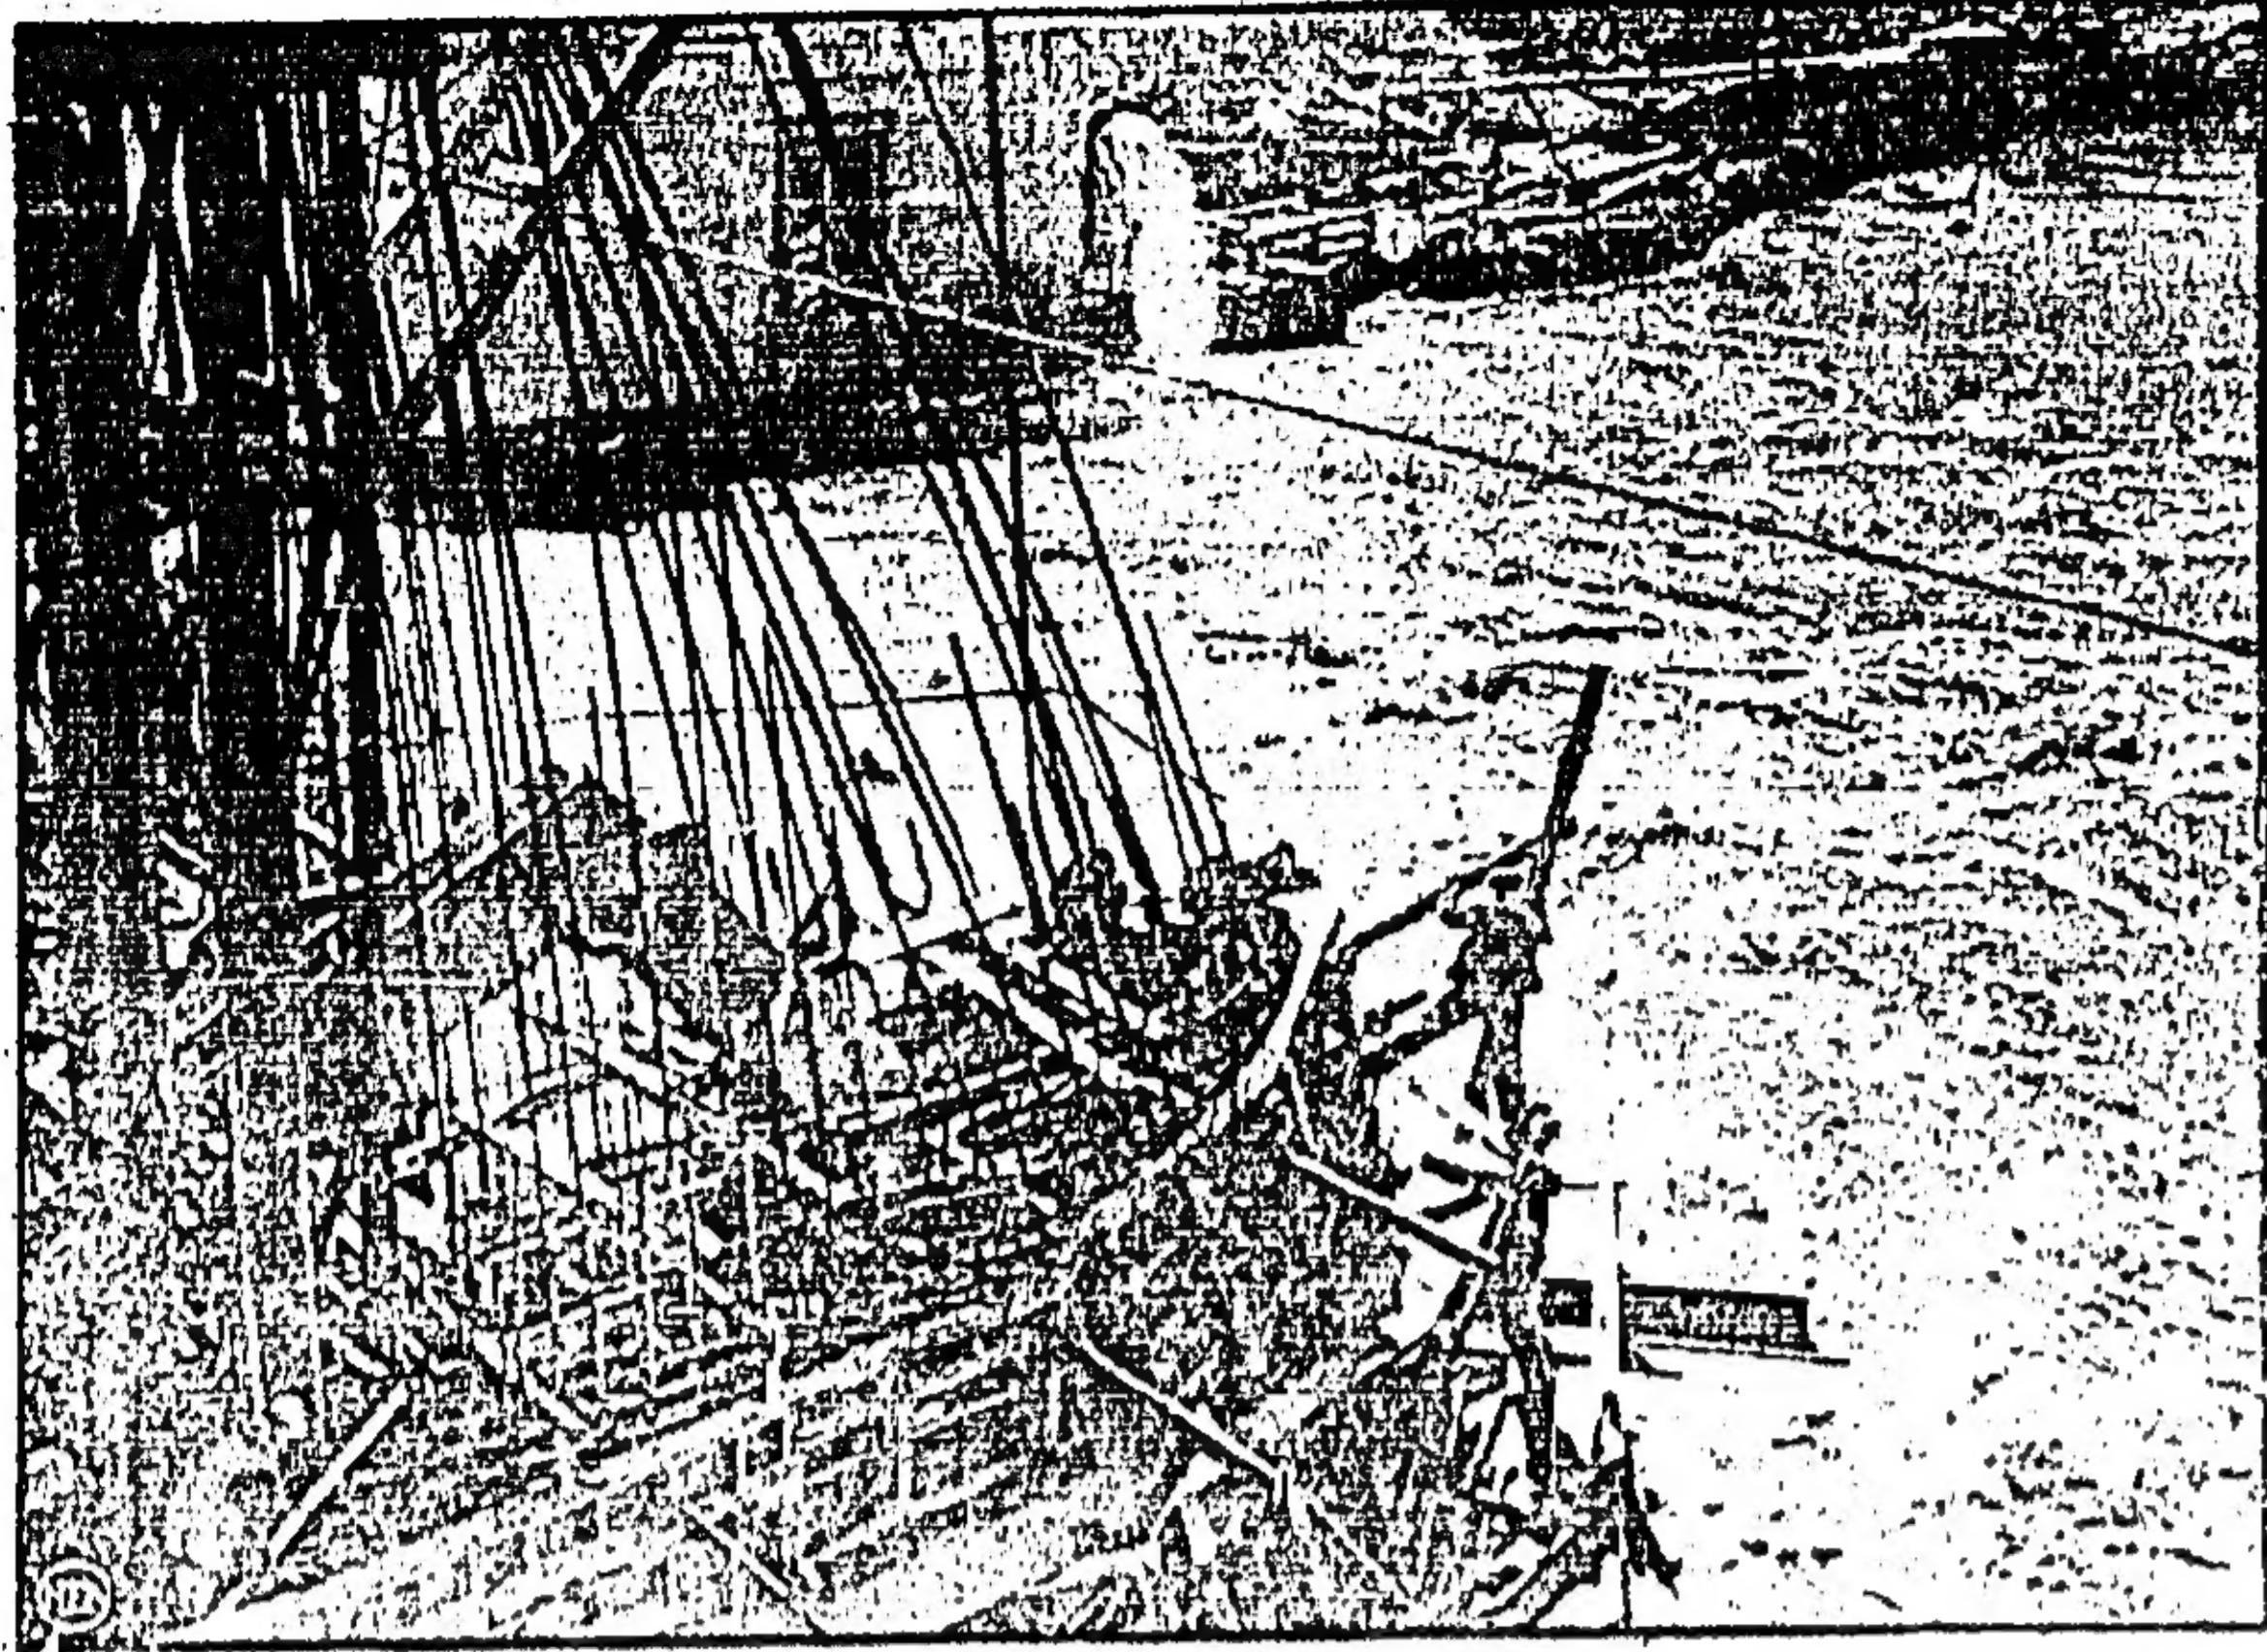

Kill Bennett, the British boxer from Singapore who was expected to make his debut in the local arena, was unfortunately ill, and his place last night was taken by Joe Sacramento, who won his bout against Kolla Urovitch.

Although the crowd was small, it was a very enthusiastic one, feeling running so high during the semi-final event that two of the ringside spectators nearly came to blows over the question of whether or not one of the fighters had fouled the other.

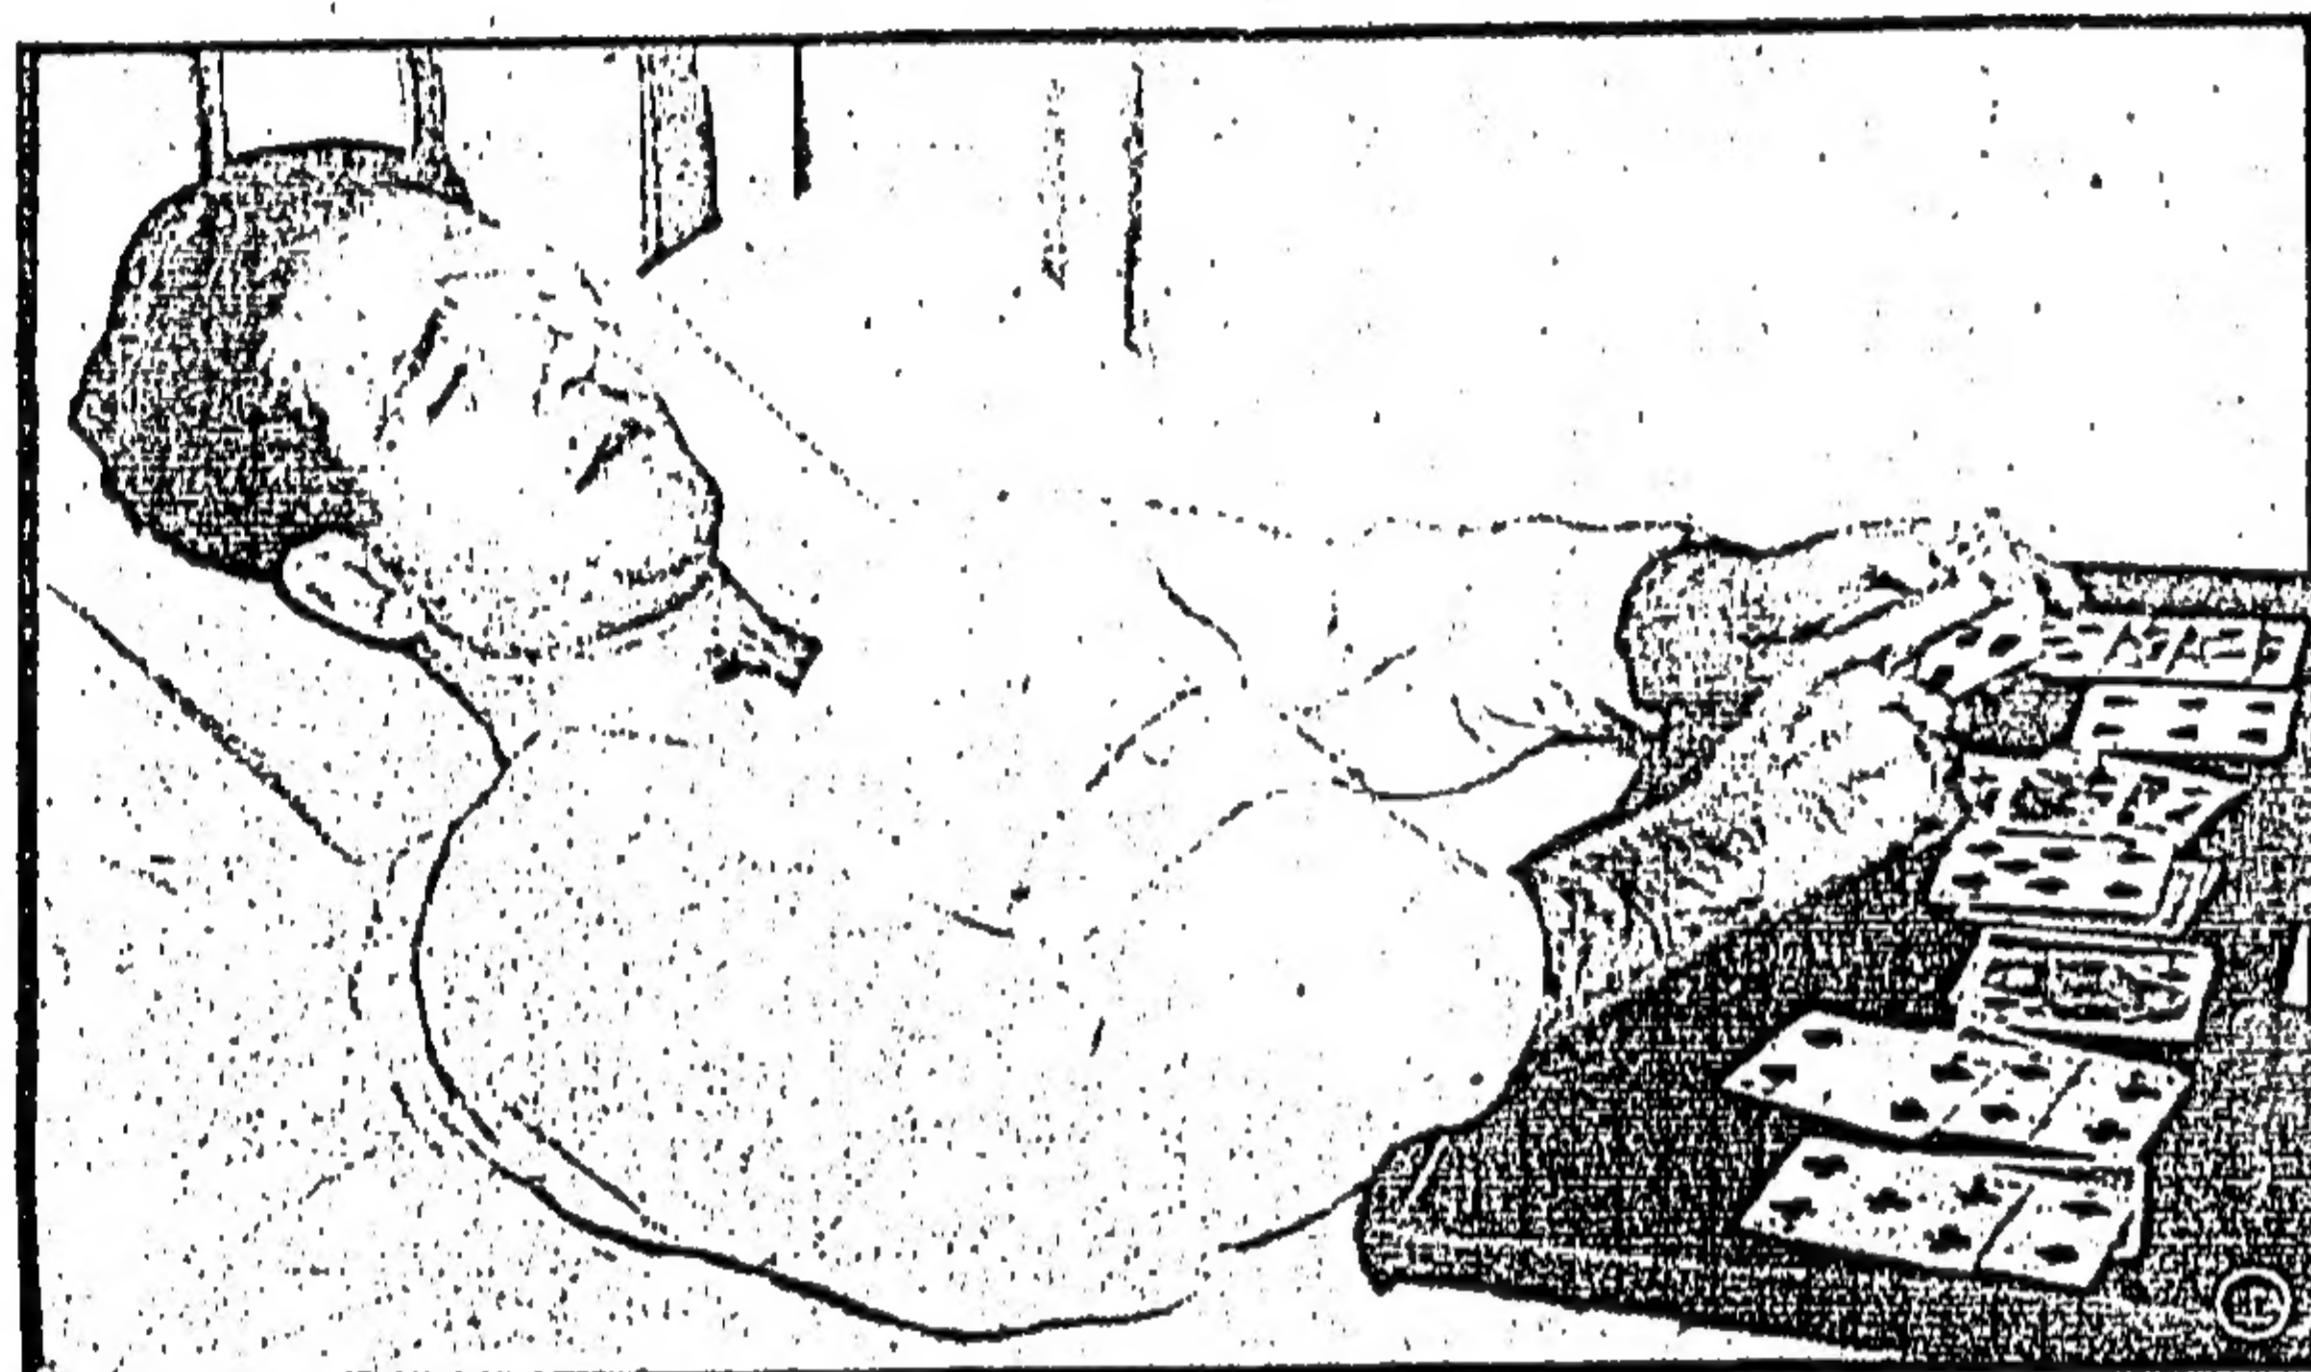

Creighton, conceding half a pound to his Korean adversary, had little chance in the early rounds to make use of his longer reach, and Showed here is the eddy below Bonneville Dam, the huge hydroelectric project on the Columbia River, where migrant salmon it is charged, are being halted on their way upstream. The Columbia Rivermen's Protective Association has charged Government officials with having violated an agreement to allow salmon upstream passage, thus threatening one of the Pacific Northwest's important industries. Thousands of salmon mill blindly around in the eddy, unable to find their way through the swift water upstream.

An injury to his eye 14 years ago may be corrected and sight restored to Robert W. McCoy, blind University of California student, through a daring operation. Surgeons found that his childhood injury had detached the retina of his eye from the choroid, allowing the watery sub-retinal fluid to seep between. By means of electricity they hope to drive platinum pins—two millimeters long—in the eyeball, draw the fluid and effect a reunion of retina and choroid. McCoy is shown playing solitaire with braille playing cards.

The biggest irrigation ditch ever dug in the United States is the All-American Canal, taking water from the Colorado River into the Imperial Valley of California. Photo shows a section being lined with clay. Over 44 miles of the 80-mile canal have been excavated.

BRITISH ROAD TRAFFIC

RESULT OF RECENT CENSUS

London, Sept. 2. The results of the traffic census on second-class roads in the middle of August, issued to-night show that in comparison with 1931, when a similar census was last taken, there has been an increase in the number of pedal cycles on the road of about 95 per cent., of goods-motor vehicles of about 45 per cent., and of passenger-vehicles of about 33 per cent., while the number of horse-drawn vehicles has declined by about 27 per cent. During the week of the census, movements were recorded of about 100 million vehicles or persons by an army of over 10,000 enumerators.—British Wireless.

RUSSIAN LACKS PASSPORT
EXPULSION ORDER MADE

Akim Peter Pavanzio, 20, unemployed Russian, appeared before Mr. S. F. Balfour at the Central Magistracy this morning, charged with having entered the Colony without a valid passport.

Sergeant Russell said defendant was arrested in Connaught Road on Tuesday and was brought to the Central Police Station, where he said he had come from Macao. Defendant had in his possession a Chinese passport which was valid, but not recognised in British ports. Sergeant Russell added that if a visa had been applied for, it would have been refused. Defendant received an expulsion order.

London, Sept. 2. The former skipper of the Girl Pat, the Grimsby trawler which sailed without instructions from her owners on a secret treasure-hunting expedition to the South Seas, landed at Graves' End to-day. George Osborne, this reckless seafarer, was immediately conveyed to London in a police van, to be charged at Bow Street with stealing a vessel from British waters.

Capt. Osborne was remanded on bail.—Reuter Bulletin Service.

TERRIBLE COST OF WARFARE

THOUSANDS DEAD IN SPANISH TURMOIL

MOSTLY FROM MASSACRES

Paris, Sept. 2. Well-informed quarters estimate that the seven weeks of civil war in Spain have resulted in the deaths of between 55,000 and 65,000 men, women and children, of whom 40,000 were either executed or massacred and the remainder were killed in battle. Nearly 90,000 are believed to have been wounded.

It is estimated that the casualties in the current Iran hostilities approach 900 dead and 2,000 wounded. The heaviest actual field fighting, thus far, has been on the Guadarramas front, where 2,000 are known to have been killed.

As for the losses to national economy, it is said they went into at least 1,000,000 pesetas daily.

The bloodiest single engagement of the war was General Francisco Franco's capture of Badajoz. In which air bombardments, executions and street fighting resulted in between 3,500 and 4,000 casualties.

Attention is drawn to the fact that eleven rebel regiments which on July 19 marched on Barcelona have completely disappeared from the war map. Either they have been killed, captured or dispersed, or they have deserted. It is said that 5,000 civilians were massacred in Barcelona on the day the rebels marched to storm the city.—United Press.

ITALIANS IN ACTION

Perpignan, Sept. 2. It is reported that a column of Italian anti-Fascists, exiles from their own country, commanded by an Italian colonel, have captured several villages in Catalonia from the insurgent forces and have severed the road between Almende and Huesca. They surrounded an insurgent column near Viclen, capturing 200 Carlists. It is reported that 200 additional Carlist militiamen joined the anti-Fascists, providing the invaders with two tanks and two machine-guns of German manufacture.—United Press.

CONTENDING WITH BARBARISM

London, Sept. 2. Newspaper reports reaching London from Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, suggest that the initiative of diplomatic representatives accredited to the Spanish Government, on behalf of humanitarian mitigation of the suffering imposed on the Spanish people by the civil war, is meeting with some promise of success.

Last week, a telegram from the Foreign Secretary to Sir Henry Chilton was published in which it was stated to be the desire of the British Government to play its full part in any organised international effort to bring the contending forces to agree to a discontinuation of cruelties, reports of which, all too many of them substantiated, have appalled the outside world.

The Spanish Government is now said to have agreed to the establishment of contact through the Diplomatic Corps with the insurgent leaders with a view to discussion of methods of warfare. Press telegrams speak hopefully of a mutual agreement to abstain from the execution of hostages and to exchange prisoners.

NON-INTERVENTION

The British Government has received, through the British Ambassador in Lisbon, notification from the Portuguese Government of the latter's acceptance in principle of the proposal for an advisory committee in London, composed of representatives of Powers pledged to non-intervention in the Spanish civil war, and with the function of acting as a clearing house for facts and ideas in connection with the application of various non-intervention declarations.

The Portuguese acceptance accompanied by a number of suggestions and requests for explanations which will receive consideration in London and Paris.

Meantime, it is understood that the British Charge d'Affaires in Berlin was in touch with the German Government to-day on this matter, and there is growing hopefulness in British official quarters that an early reply may be expected from Berlin and that it will be favourable to the scheme for a committee, which is increasingly regarded here as an essential safeguard of the non-interventionist position.—British Wireless.

Chickenpox No Hindrance To Mr. Eden

ATTENDS TO DUTIES BY TELEPHONE

London, Sept. 2. Mr. Anthony Eden is suffering a slight attack of chickenpox, which necessitates his absence from the Foreign Office for a short time.

However, he will remain in telephone contact with his staff and expects to be fully recovered in time to participate in the League of Nations Assembly meeting.—Reuter Bulletin Service.

Japanese To Retain Old War Vessels

ANSWER TO BRITISH NAVAL MANOEUVRE

London, Sept. 2. The Japanese reply to the British note invoking the Escalator Clause of the Washington and London Naval Treaties, says that Japan intends to retain 11,000 tons of surplus destroyers and 13,000 tons of surplus submarines.

This is the Japanese answer to Great Britain's declaration of the intention to retain 40,000 tons of surplus destroyers.

The Japanese note is under consideration.—Reuter Bulletin Service.
